Christian Pilgrims March Way Of Cross In Old Jerusalem

Many Nations Represented By Over 5,000

JERUSALEM, April 8 (AP)—Christian pilgrims of many nations, ranging from turbaned Orientals to gum-chewing Americans, marched on the way of the Cross through the cobbled streets of Old Jerusalem today.

The Good Friday procession followed the path along which Jesus Christ carried His cross to Calvary.

More than 5,000 pilgrims took part. The group was divided according to languages. Preceding each unit was a huge wooden cross carried by 15 men.

The procession began inside the courtyard of the Moslem secondary school near St. Stephen's Gate and moved along to the Church of the Holy Sepulcher.

The first station on the way was on the spot where Christ was tried before Pontius Pilate. The route is marked by 14 other stations where incidents occurred during Christ's walk to his death.

Although he was crucified outside the city wall, changes in Jerusalem since then have enclosed the traditional site of the Crucifixion and burial, which form the last "Stations of the Cross."

At each station the procession paused while a sermon was preached in the language of each group.

Brown-robed Franciscans led the procession, which included members of the order from all over the world—Filipinos, Americans, Europeans.

A Franciscan with a Midwestern accent conducted the services for the camera-toting Americans, many of whom wore sport shirts. Here and there an American woman passed in slacks.

Immediately following the Americans were two Arab groups led by blackhooded women, who wept softly at the point where Christ fell under the weight of the Cross. Many of the Arabs wore turbans, turbans or the flowing keffiyehs of the Bedouins.

Some Christian Arab women wore brilliantly embroidered costumes dating from the time of the Crusades. Some nursed babies. Among a group of French pilgrims was France's minister of justice, Robert Chuman.

As the pilgrims approached the church, the chants and hymns of the Christians merged with a Moslem call to prayer from a nearby minaret.

From that point to the end of the way, radios in Moslem shops along the street broadcasting Moslem sermons from the mosques competed with the Christian Liturgy. Friday is the Moslem Sabbath.

As the procession entered the Church of the Holy Sepulcher, many women knelt to kiss the Stone of Unction where Christ's body was anointed before burial.

Rita Hayworth Files Law Suit

HOLLYWOOD, April 8 (AP)—Actress Rita Hayworth filed suit in federal court today to terminate her contract with Columbia Pictures Corp., with whom she had just been reinstated after a suspension.

The actress, former wife of Prince Aly Khan and now married to singer Dick Haymes, started in her complaint that Columbia Pictures had violated the contract by failing to start "principal photography" in a forthcoming picture, "Joseph and his Brethren."

Washington's Men Were Tough During War For Our Freedom

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—The Smithsonian Institution has additional evidence that George Washington's soldiers had to be hardy men, inside and out.

The healthy Continental had the Redcoats and the cold to worry about. The sick or wounded Continental was treated out of regimental medicine chests that were heavy on strong purgatives, quinine and equipment for amputations (boiling holes in skulls). They were light on pain killers.

The Smithsonian made public a study of these medicine chests, based on the records of a Philadelphia apothecary shop, which supplied some of them. The study was made by George Griffenhagen of the institute's division of medicine and was published also in

Pentagon To Publish Papers On MacArthur's Attitude On Red's Entry In Pacific War

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—Information bearing on the hot question whether Gen. Douglas MacArthur wanted Russia in the Pacific war in 1945 will be made public, the Defense Department said today. Whether the material from the Pentagon files will settle the controversy is not known. A Defense Department statement merely said the material will be "relevant."

C. Herschel Schooley, department information chief, said he could not set a definite date for the release of the information. In a statement, the department said it is "expeditiously" looking over documents, in view of requests from members of Congress and newsmen that they be made public. It barred piecemeal release of the papers, saying:

"The Department of Defense believes... the release of separate items connected with Russia's entry into the Pacific war would confuse rather than clarify the situation."

The controversy grew out of the release last month of the Yalta papers—documents and memoranda dealing with the 1945 meeting of President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin. Critics of Roosevelt said the papers bore out their contention that Roosevelt made unnecessary concessions to get Russia into the war against Japan and that these concessions "sold out" Eastern Europe and large areas of Asia to communism.

Some newspapers and others replied that Roosevelt relied on military advice that it was necessary to get Russia into the Pacific war in a big way as soon as possible, in order to save American lives. They said MacArthur favored such a course. At the time U.S.

Dulles Strives To Muffle New Blow Over Corsi Controversy

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—Secretary Dulles tried to muffle a new blowup over State Department security today by personally offering another assignment to Edward J. Corsi, who is being cut loose from his job as special assistant on immigration problems.

"I don't know whether I am interested," Corsi told reporters after his meeting with Dulles.

Two Atomic Blasts Set For Today

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 8 (AP)—Plans for two atomic shots tomorrow were made by the nation's nuclear weapons testers after a forecast today indicated clearing weather.

The Atomic Energy Commission said both the big 400-foot tower blast on Frenchman Flat and the smaller 300-foot Yucca Flat shot were being held in readiness. Possibilities appeared good, the AEC said, that conditions would be acceptable for either, or both, to be exploded.

The main hitch might be technical, rather than meteorological, testers said.

The 300-foot Yucca shot is scheduled for 4:30 a.m. and the 400-foot test on Frenchman Flat is set for 9 a.m. Weather today forced postponement of the tests.

Pay Murder Charge

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 8 (AP)—The state charged oilman William Clark's widow today with promising to pay $10,000 for his murder. It accused three police characters of killing him. Clark, 61, was shot behind an ear in his 22-room mansion here two years ago.

the journal of the American Pharmaceutical Assn. Griffenhagen reported that "cathartics were the leading medicine employed." The regimental chest held 10 pounds each of epsom salt and laudanum; 1½ pounds of aloë, two pounds of jalap and one pound of rhubarb, as well as four pounds of cinchona bark, the raw material of quinine.

But for sedatives, a whole regiment was allotted only eight ounces of opium and 12 ounces of tincture of opium. Surgical dressings included tow, lint and adhesive plaster, and the medicine chests were packed also with lancets for bloodletting, brass tourniquets for amputations and trepans.

Rocket Armed Jets Swarm Over Straits

A SOUTH FORMOSA AIR BASE, Saturday, April 9 (AP)—U. S. Sabre jets from Okinawa, armed with "Mighty Mouse" rockets, are flying the Formosa skies where conceivably they might some day fight.

The F86D jets are practicing alongside Chinese airmen who are training for defense of Formosa in slower F84 jets and propeller-driven Privateers and Mitchells left over from World War II.

The Sabre jets are the 16th Squadron of the 51st Wing. They came here from Okinawa to continue their training and at the same time familiarize themselves with this troubled Nationalist Chinese island.

Officers don't deny that they fly out over the Formosa Strait where they can get a look at the mainland of Communist China.

All types of American planes are rotating through Formosa and a backlog of pilots familiar with the area is being built up, said Col. John W. Lafko of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., American Military Assistance Advisory Group air commander.

Lafko said the American pilots have learned how to operate with Chinese air force units. He added: "We have become capable of performing any mission here we might be called upon to perform."

The 16th Squadron is under command of Lt. Col. H. W. Morris of Oklahoma City.

Flight Failure Cause Listed

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board today said "fuel exhaustion brought about by inadequate flight planning" was the probable cause of a forced landing of a chartered plane in the Monongahela River near Pittsburgh last Dec. 22. The mishap resulted in 10 deaths.

"Contributing factors," the board said, "were inadequate crew supervision and training."

The plane, a DC3C, was operated by Johnson Flying Service, Inc., of Missoula, Mont. Drowned after the plane landed in the river were nine servicemen and the pilot, Capt. Harold A. Fox, 32.

PITTSBURGH, April 8 (AP)—Mrs. Maybelle Loffert, 28, mother of three children, was found shot to death in her home today. Police called it a suicide.

Girl Prays, Reads Joke Book While She And Friend Await Rescue From Stream

BRISTOL, N. H., April 8 (AP)—A young high school girl who, with her teen-age escort, was trapped 45 hours in a car marooned in a swift-flowing river, tonight told how she alternately prayed and read aloud from a joke book during the ordeal.

Propped up in her bed at Franklin Hospital, 14-year-old Nancy Willis, pale from her harrowing experience, told a photographer, "I feel fine, thank you." Her mother, Mrs. Edwina Merrill, sat at her bedside.

The girl and her companion, Alfred E. Paine Jr., 16, were rescued today after their car plunged over an embankment into the Smith River Wednesday night.

Nancy said she and Paine spent Wednesday night in the back seat of the car praying.

When daylight came, she said, they found themselves about 40 feet from shore. Finding a book of jokes on the front seat, the girl said she read aloud to keep up their spirits.

Paine wanted to attempt to go ashore, but Miss Willis discouraged him, saying she knew help would arrive.

This morning, the pair heard shouts of a searching party and "I knew help was coming," the girl said.

They were rescued from the 1945 two-door automobile over a spray-swept fire department ladder.

By use of a block and tackle the ladder was lowered like a boom over a 25-foot span of rampaging water.

When brought to shore, they were near exhaustion and suffering from cold and hunger. Physicians expected to release them from the hospital tomorrow.

Although the young couple was not allowed to speak to newsmen immediately, police explained their car apparently missed a turn in the road and plunged down a steep embankment into the water.

The vehicle first came to rest under a bridge but later inched down stream and perched on a submerged rock.

Not until then did a member of a searching party, 16-year-old Mason Westfall, a school chum, first sight the automobile.

Officials theorized the youngsters stayed inside the vehicle fearful of being swept down stream by the swift current.

Wearing only light clothing, the couple used a blanket found in the car for warmth.

Bristol Fire Chief William B. Tucker, first to crawl over the ladder to the car, aided Miss Willis to tie a rope about her waist and then inched backward with her to shore. A Franklin firefighter, Louis Marsh, rescued the boy in the same manner.

Officials pointed out the hood ripped loose and covered the windshield thereby shielding the interior of the car, especially the rear seat, keeping it amazingly dry despite the fact water outside came up to the car windows.

The roar of the rapids prevented cries of the pair from being heard on shore. The auto horn also became inoperative when water flooded the electrical system.

Good Weather Scheduled For Easter Sunday

By The Associated Press

A SUNNY and warm Easter Sunday is promised for Pennsylvania, after nearly a week of scattered rain, snow flurries and sub-freezing temperatures.

Thousands of Pennsylvanians had prepared unwillingly for a chilly weekend, and Christian churches were mapping plans to move out-of-door Easter sunrise services into sheltered areas.

But a warming trend moved across Pennsylvania on Good Friday, and with it came the prospect of temperatures ranging in the high 60s and low 70s by Sunday.

Perfect spring weather for church-going and for displaying new Easter outfits.

In Christian churches everywhere in Pennsylvania yesterday, solemn three-hour services were held commemorating the time Christ suffered on the Cross.

Gov. George M. Leader issued a proclamation asking the Christian community to observe the holy day that is the prelude to Easter, the Resurrection morn.

Stevenson To Discuss Far East Situation With Nation Monday: After Urgings By Many People

CHICAGO, April 8 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson will discuss the Far East situation Monday night in a half-hour radio talk.

The speech will be carried without cost by two coast-to-coast networks as a public service.

The Columbia Broadcasting System announced it will broadcast the talk from 10 to 10:30 p. m. (EST). The National Broadcasting Co. will air it from 10:30 to 11 p. m.

Friends said the speech was prompted by "hundreds of letters, telegrams and telephone calls." It will be Stevenson's first major public discussion since a speech last December at New Orleans.

The 1952 Democratic presidential candidate was reported by aides unavailable for comment on the talk which he was writing in his Chicago law office.

Friends said, however, that Stevenson has expressed the view that the public needs a clearer picture of the implications of the United States position with respect to the Chinese-Formosa situation, particularly U.S. action in case of a Red Chinese attack on Matsu or Quemoy, the small islands held by Chiang Kai-shek close to the China coast.

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said the National Committee had nothing to do with arranging Stevenson's speech or with inducing him to make it.

A small flotilla of Coast Guards, Navy, Newark and New York City fireboats and 120 Newark firemen poured tons of water on 1,500-foot pier 27 in Port Newark. The fire roared out of control for two hours.

Tugs towed the Liberian Freighters Cambridge away from the pier and crew members of the chemical tanker Marine Chemist were ordered ashore as a safety measure at the height of the fire. The blaze broke out about halfway between the ships, but never got too close to either.

Clouds of thick, acid smoke erupted from the fire and could be seen for miles along the waterfront area and across Newark Bay in Bayonne. Newark Airport is about a mile away.

Wage Confab Recess

DETROIT, April 8 (AP)—Negotiators from General Motors Corp. and the CIO United Auto Workers today recessed until Monday their talks on the union's demand for a Guaranteed Annual Wage.

At the same time the federal government called on both the company and the CIO Communication Workers of America to settle a 26-day-old strike that has brought violence in most of the nine Southeastern states affected.

Sheriff Holt McDowell of Birmingham and Mayor Jap Bryant of nearby Bessemer made requests to Gov. James E. Folsom for troops. The governor directed Bill Lyle, head of the Public Safety Department to make a survey of the area. He said he would decide whether to send guardsmen into the section after receiving Lyle's report.

Threats to blockade the approaches to a Southern Bell warehouse at Bessemer sent half a hundred police and sheriff's deputies to guard the structure last night.

Widespread cable cutting by ax, dynamite and gunfire have kept repair crews busy. Twenty-five striking workers have been fired for alleged acts of violence or threatening of those still at work.

Soviet Union Beneficiary Of Stories

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—President Eisenhower feels that some technical military secrets have been "made available to the enemy" by publication in this country, his press secretary said today.

Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President is disturbed by the situation.

Asked to cite some specific examples, Hagerty refused to do so on the ground that it might be of further help to an enemy.

Hagerty described Eisenhower's feelings on the subject in response to a request for comment on a published report that the President "is deeply concerned over what he regards as an excessive flow of military information from this country to the Soviet Union."

The article, by Walter Kerr in the New York Herald-Tribune, said the President believes that while Soviet technicians may be aware of many developments in this country, they often are unable to influence their political leaders.

Hence, the reasoning goes, the information may lie dormant in some technical report until brought to the attention of Russian political leaders by being published, commented upon, and discussed by radio and television reporters in this country.

Hagerty refused repeatedly to say whether there was any connection between Eisenhower's views and the rigid new information control directives set up on March 30 by Secretary of Defense Wilson.

The White House secretary said he wanted to stress that his remarks about how the President felt were "not intended as a reprimand to any individual or department."

He said the Wilson directives were "entirely a Defense Department matter," which he was not going to discuss. He added: "I think I could say this: The President never has believed in censorship of legitimate news. At his press conference and in his executive order on security matters he has expressed that belief and has translated it into action."

"However, he has always believed there is no reason to make available to the enemy technical military secrets which by their issuance could do nothing but hurt the interests of the United States."

"To that extent, and only to that extent would we ask that that sort of information be withheld from general circulation."

"He does not believe that in other instances security or security regulations should be used by any branch of the government to cover up the publication of legitimate news."

Asked whether Eisenhower feels that "technical military secrets" have been made available to the enemy through publication in this country, Hagerty replied:

"We have felt that such technical information has been made available."

Reporters at the Pentagon were told that Wilson, who has been away from his desk for several days suffering from a cold, "will be glad to discuss" the new public information directive at his press conference next Tuesday.

Wilson's order in effect banned the issuance of information without prior clearance through his office, where it must be checked both for security and for a determination of whether its publication "would constitute a constructive contribution to the primary mission" of the Defense Department.

Wind Swept Fire Races Over Pier

NEWARK, N. J., April 8 (AP)—A jet-like, four-alarm fire whipped by a stiff breeze raced along a Navy pier today, charring a 250-foot section of planking and destroying a scow and three barges.

So swiftly did the flames spread that two firemen had to be rescued from a flaming barge when the wind changed, and 500 feet of hose line and a hose wagon were engulfed by fire.

Two other firemen narrowly missed being crushed when a huge steel pile driver, buckled by the intense heat, crashed onto the pier from one of the barges. At least two firemen were overcome by dense smoke.

Christians To Celebrate Resurrection Of Jesus Christ

Dawn Service Announced At St. John's

THE FESTIVAL of the Lord's Resurrection will be observed throughout the day tomorrow in St. John's Lutheran Church, Stroudsburg.

At 6:15 a.m., a sunrise and matin service will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. P. N. Wohlsen, D.D. He will preach on "Three Vital Words." A program of music will be given under the direction of Richard Lindroth, choirmaster, and Miss Eleanor Decker, organist. It will include Easter anthems by the senior choir. The Lenten denial books will be returned.

Church School session will be conducted at 9:45 a.m., with Richard Lindroth, superintendent, in charge. The officers aim for an attendance of 300.

At 10:45 a.m., the chief festival service of the Lord's Resurrection will be conducted. Rev. Dr. Theodore K. Finck, of Philadelphia, will bring the Easter message and assist in the administration of the Holy Communion. Easter anthems will be sung by the senior choir under direction of Mr. Lindroth. John Carson will serve as acolyte, James McConnell, Russell Benninger, A. E. Kitzman and Charles Widner will be the ushers.

The junior class, confirmed on Palm Sunday, will receive the first communion in a body. Easter flowers will be placed by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keiper as a memorial to their son, Charles, who was killed in World War Two; by Mrs. George Biggs and family in memory of Mr. Biggs; by Thea Shaw and Edgar Serfass in memory of their parents, and by Dr. Philip Pritchard as a memorial to his wife.

At 2:30 p.m. the pastor will conduct a baptismal service for infants at the sacred font.

The regular festival service of the church school will be conducted at 4:30 p.m. in the sanctuary. A tableau will be presented by members from all departments. The junior choir will have charge of the music. The offering will be devoted to the work of the Good Shepherd Home for Crippled Orphans at Allentown. The officers request that all Lenten denial books be returned during the day.

On Monday at 8 p.m., a reception will be tendered, held in the church school rooms, for the 32 new members who have been received into the congregation since Whit Sunday, 1954. A program of entertainment has been arranged by the Luther League. During the social hour, refreshments will be served by the Fidelia Class.

Fifth Street Mission Plans

THE PUBLIC is invited to the Easter program of the Fifth Street Presbyterian Mission which will be held at 2 p.m. on Easter.

Both the girls' orchestra and the mission orchestra will be featured in the program. There will be songs and recitations by the primary class, a vocal selection by the girls' chorus and a piano solo by Joan Lake. Gladys Marsh will present a selection of poetry readings and an impersonation of Mary Magdalene.

A flannelgraph story will be given by Kay Neupert. Another feature of the program will be a play entitled "When Faith Speaks," which will depict the triumph of faith over fear.

Members of the cast are as follows: Fear, Joan Lake, Faith, Eunice Reamer, the mourner, Barbara Garis, the three women, Sandra Mader, Dorothy Neupert, and Abbie Jane Fries. Mrs. Herbert Fowler, Miss Barbara Garis and Miss Eunice Reamer served as the committee in charge of arranging the program. An egg hunt will be held for the children at the close of the program.

Canadensis Methodist Early Worship

ON EASTER morning at 6:00 a sunrise service will be held in the Canadensis Methodist Church. The sermon will be entitled, "Held Fast Forever." The senior choir of the church will sing an anthem.

At the morning worship, commencing at 10:45, the Day of Resurrection will again be celebrated. The sermon at this time will be entitled, "Truth or Gospel." A musical program is planned with anthems by the junior and senior choirs of the church. Miss Betty Holte will sing a solo and an octet of the choir members will also sing.

At the Sunday School hour, a special program will be presented with the children taking part. This will begin at 9:30 a.m.

Easter Music

MIDDLE SMITHFIELD — Easter Worship service will be held at 9:45 a.m. at the Middle Smithfield Presbyterian Church. The choir under the direction of Laura Baynor will sing the anthem "Christ The Lord Is Risen Today." Mary Ruth Smith, infant daughter of John and Doris Smith, will be baptized at this Easter Service.

Miss Marcella Decray

Marcella Decray, Harpist, To Present Recital Sunday

WIDELY-ACCLAIMED HARPIST Marcella Decray will appear during the Rose Service beginning at 5 p.m. Sunday in East Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

Miss Decray's recital will be part of the service program. A native of Philadelphia, Miss Decray has recently earned a reputation as one of the most authoritative interpreters of music for the harp.

She studied harp with Mildred Dilling in Philadelphia and later with Henriette Benio in Paris. For four years she was a member of the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra.

She has appeared in recital in Carnegie Hall, New York. Of a recital given by Miss Decray there on Oct. 12, 1953, the New York Herald Tribune music critic wrote: "An extremely able young harpist, Marcella Decray, played a solo program and it was at once clear that she is an accomplished performer on that re-appearing instrument for her notes are of clarity, her volume of lovely resonance, her damping expert at all times and her harmonics are good and clear, never woody. Her recital was beautifully played throughout."

Miss Decray is at present completing her third season as a member of the Philadelphia Orchestra under the baton of Eugene Ormandy.

Mennonite's Easter Plans

THE BEKAN Mennonite Brethren in Christ Sunday School will present its Easter program at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Different scholars of the school will be taking part in recitation, singing, etc., and the Junior choir will be singing "Beautiful Morning" and "Tell It Today."

Near the end of the program the Easter story will be given on flannel graph.

The theme of the whole program will be built on the Scripture "Because I live, ye shall live also" (John 14:19), with the prayer at heart that this Easter will become the happiest for all who would find this "New Life" in the resurrected Christ.

Hawkeshill Sunrise Hour

THE PUBLIC is invited to attend the Easter Sunrise Service to be held on the Hawkeshill estate of Mrs. Thomas G. Hawkes, located between Berntonville and Sayreville off Route 12, at 6:00 a.m., on Easter.

Rev. John R. Borgstrom of the Hamilton Lutheran parish will deliver the Easter message. The combined choirs of the Hamilton charge will sing and vocal and instrumental numbers will be presented by members of the parish churches.

Sponsor of this service is the Crusader class of St. John's Lutheran Sunday school. If weather conditions are unfavorable the service will be held in St. John's church, Bartonsville.

Youth For Christ Rally At 8 Tonight

"PIGMENTS' Progress," a one-hour sound-color production of the great Christian classic, will be shown for the first time in this area at the Youth For Christ Rally tonight at 8 at the First Baptist Church of Smithfield, East Stroudsburg.

The film is based on John Bunyan's immortal book and depicts the journey of the Pilgrim through life. It took C. O. Baptista Films, of Wheaton, Illinois, four and one-half years to produce and has received considerable praise since its release.

The public is cordially invited to attend this special Easter program.

Sunday School Classes To Give Program

THE EAST Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church will commence its Easter Sunday services with a special Easter program in the Church School at 9:30 a.m. The Junior Department will lead the worship service and the combined youth choirs will sing. Mrs. Robert Wright is directing the program.

The Easter worship service at 11 a.m. will include two anthems by the church choir and one selection each by the Junior Choir and the Junior High Choir. Walter E. Schlough, organist, will play two numbers.

The pastor, Rev. F. W. Wingerter, will speak on "Reasons for the Resurrection." The host and hostess are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Millard Jr. The nursery children will be cared for by Mrs. Samuel Van Auker. Mrs. Wilbur Bruce will be choir mother. Easter flowers are the gift of the various organizations of the church.

Westminster Fellowship meets at 6 p.m. with Miss Mary Sue Harvey in charge. The Easter vespers service will be held at 7:30 p.m. when Rev. John P. Sinclair will bring a message on "The Birthday of the Son of God" which will be illustrated by the colored filmstrip on the "Resurrection." During the day the Lenten sacrificial offering for the "One Great Hour of Sharing" will be received.

The Lydia Circle will meet with Mrs. Ashton L. Burrows, 940 King St., Stroudsburg, Monday at 8 p.m. The postponed meeting of the Dyracs Circle will be held Friday at 8 p.m. with Mrs. Thaddeus Janusz, 90 Smith St.

The Church School, Mrs. Charles Schaller, superintendent, is calling the teachers and officers to a conference Wednesday at 7:30 p.m., at the church.

Easter Choral Vespers To Feature Combined Choirs

AN EASTER CHORAL vespers program will be presented at the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church, on Easter afternoon, at 5:00 by the Altar, Youth, Junior Boychoir, Junior Girlschoir, and Cherub Choirs.

This is the first time that all five choirs will unite in an Easter Vespers service to present the Easter Story in an entirely musical setting. Over one hundred children, boys and girls, youth, and men and women chorists will participate.

The program has been arranged and will be directed by Miss Jean Maxwell, minister of music, who is serving in the capacity of organist director on a full-time basis. The music will range from the compositions of Palestrina and Bach to that of our present-day composers. The Call to Worship, Prayer, Scripture, and Benediction will be sung by the respective choirs.

The central theme is: Jesus Christ, Our Lord and Saviour; Day of Triumph, The Cross and the Tomb, The Resurrection, The Exaltation.

This part of the service will open with "Hosanna" by the Cherub Choir, followed by the stirring "Hosanna" from the Moravian Liturgy, arranged by Roberta Litz, which will be sung by the Senior Choir, with Mrs. Anne George and Miss Marguerite Cramer singing with the choir antiphonally. The younger choirs will sing individually, together, and with the Senior Choir.

The women ensemble will make their initial appearance when they sing J. S. Bach's "Come Soothing Death" and Thompson's "Spring Bursts Today" with words by Christina Rossetti. All choirs will unite in "The Exaltation" to sing the 16th Century anthem by Melchior Vulpus, "Praise We Our God," as well as the joyful "We Will Be Merry," based on a traditional melody and arranged by the contemporary composer, Ralph Marjory.

Marcella DeCray, guest harpist, of the Philadelphia Symphony, will present several groups of solos. The prelude will be a harp-organ duo. The Vierge, "Finale" from the First Symphony, played as a postlude by Miss Maxwell will complete the vespers concert.

Adventists Start Missions Appeal

MEMBERS of the local Seventh-Day Adventist Church will cut corners on routine activities for the next three or four weeks in order to participate actively in the denomination's annual Missions Appeal.

The volunteer solicitors will visit friends and neighbors in the community to invite them to share in the mission and welfare program sponsored by the church in 198 countries of the world. William R. Bornstein, pastor of the Stroudsburg Adventist congregation, reports that last year the denomination spent approximately $60,000,000 in its medical, educational, evangelistic, and welfare work.

from St. John's Lutheran Church, Stroudsburg.

Sunday School will be conducted at 10 a.m. All members are requested to bring a gift of fresh eggs on Sunday evening or to Church School at 10 a.m. for inclusion in the shipment to the Lutheran orphanages.

Shawnee Presbyterian To Have Easter Cantata Music

THE ADULT CHOIR of the Shawnee Presbyterian Church will present the Easter Cantata entitled "The Song of Easter" by Roy Ringwald, during the morning worship service.

Following the reading of St. Matthew 28 the Girls Choir will sing the anthem "Easter Dawn" by Roy Nolte. Later in the worship hour the Boys Choir will sing the anthem "One Day" by Marsh. The Rev. David C. Newquist will preach the sermon entitled "Behold, The Risen Lord." This will be followed by the Easter Cantata directed by Wallace Hornbrook. Those taking part in the Cantata are: First sopranos, Donna Hornbrook, Margaret Kulp; second sopranos, Dorothy Dietrick, Marie LaBar, Betty Newquist; altos, Pauline Hope, Carol Willhoite, Leona Willhoite; baritones, Donald Albert, Irvin Walter, Henry West, John Willhoite, Norman Dietrick; narrator, Rev. David Newquist. The choir gratefully welcomes the assistance of Miss Carol Willhoite, John Willhoite, Mrs. Leona Willhoite and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dietrick.

Among other well known favorites in "The Song of Easter" are the beautiful Negro spirituals, "Let Us Break Bread Together" and "Were You There." The Cantata dramatically portrays the Story of Easter and ends with Hallelujahs of rejoicing that Jesus Christ is Risen from the Dead. The Cantata will be followed by Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus" after the choir will recess silently to the section in the cemetery behind the church where the service will be conducted. They will be followed by the congregation. "Tape" will be played by Michael Helier and all will join in singing the Hymn of Victory, "Jesus Christ Is Risen Today." The Easter benediction will be pronounced by the Rev. David C. Newquist.

On Wednesday at 7:30 p.m., at the church.

On Wednesday, April 13, the Rev. John P. Sinclair will conduct the Mid-Week Service at 7:00 p.m. The Family Night Suppers will be resumed at 6:15 on Wednesday.

The bell rings, and its message is a clarion call across the countryside. Beneath it, white lilies touched by the sunlight look upward toward a cloudless sky.

This is Easter . . . the golden day . . . the day of promise and joy. This is the time when God proffers the great gift of eternal life . . . when he shows, in the lesson of the Tomb . . . that there is no death.

There is no more joyous occasion in the Church than Easter. Against the setting of Spring, it touches the land with beauty, bringing a new upsurge of hope, thrilling the young, comforting the old. Easter is the time to rededicate your faith . . . to listen again to a wonderful promise . . . to receive again a glorious gift. Start attending Church regularly by beginning at Easter.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Pre-Easter Thought

There is some small comfort to women, now picking out their Easter outfits, in what happened to Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower the other day.

She and Mrs. Durries Crane, wife of a Washington manufacturer's representative, showed up at a reception in the same kind of dress . . . and the buzzing is still being heard throughout the land.

The dress was a bright blue-and-green print.

It can happen to anyone! While we try never to miss a chance to point out the blessings of democracy which includes the freedom to dress as well as the next one . . . let's hasten on to the matter of handling such "embarrassing" situations.

In the capital city confrontation, Mrs. C. tried to make herself inconspicuous by quickly throwing on her mink cape.

Mrs. E. . . spotting her . . . said: "Don't hide it. I think it's pretty."

Well said . . . and graciously as befits a First Lady.

Pocono Mountains ladies may well give thought to what they'll do and say if and when they see their doubles in the Easter parade.

The Easter Season

Easter, with its promise of eternal hope, its supreme assurance — demonstrated by the Resurrection — that emphasis on the things of the spirit means every other good will follow, will be observed tomorrow by millions of worshippers all over the world.

The martyrdom of Jesus Christ — a man of good deeds, a just man, a man who gave to others without counting the cost — proves to us that man survives by his spiritual acts.

The evil, the men of bad faith, the destructive forces alive in the world at the time of Christ, are alive today, magnified many, many times.

These forces can be met and defeated

only on the basis that high spiritual values are the true way of life. And this is all backed by that great promise of Jesus, who proved it by triumph over the evil men of his day and the grave:

"Lo, I am with you always, even to the end of the world."

And during this same season — Jews throughout the world reach the climax of the Passover observance which carries with it another promise — the promise of freedom.

Here are two great religious observances which provide mankind with a power founded in faith, a power which will sustain them in all times.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Not Even H-Bomb Can Frighten Because It Cannot Kill Those Who Trust In God

In ancient lore, it is said that King Solomon wore a ring upon which was engraved certain Hebrew letters. When asked what they meant, this wisest of men translated them into the phrase, "These too shall pass away."

And who shall say on Easter day that so, optimistic an idea can be untrue? For Easter is a tale of 1922 years' age and it is still being celebrated, not as much as the story of a death as it is the saga of life, of life eternal, of the rhythmic resurrection of all that lives in this world.

In this age of science, we are beginning to grasp what the theologians always knew, namely, that there is no death. Nothing totally disappears. There may be change; there may be an alteration of form or even of substance, but in the economy of nature nothing is lost. There is no destruction without a fall-out, which returns to the Earth what left the Earth. This the men of God always knew — "I am the Resurrection!"

Maimonides, the 12th-century philosopher of whose death it is to be observed this year, in his "The Guide for the Perplexed," wrote: " . . . Even the existence of this corporeal element, low as it is in reality, is because it is the source of death and all evils, is likewise good for the permanence of the Universe and the continuation of the order of things, so that one thing departs and the other succeeds. Rabbi Meir therefore explains the words 'and behold it was very good,' that even death was good."

St. Augustine speaks the same thought but more emotionally: " . . . O what said he, I will lay me down and sleep, for who shall hinder us, when cometh to pass that saying which is written, 'Death is swallowed up in victory?' And Thou, surprisingly art the Self-same. Who are not changed; and in Thee is rest which forgetteth all toil, for there is none other with Thee, nor are we to seek those many other things, which are not what Thou art. But Thou, Lord, alone hast made me dwell in hope . . ."

This noble uplifting of the human spirit is inherent in the idea of the resurrection, in the gamut of tense activity in all of nature when that which during the winter months looked drab and brown and barren, suddenly again comes to life in a fierce struggle over the chilling, freezing death which we thought was upon us. As the sun grows warmer and the grass green again and the buds break out upon the trees, we know that there is no death. We see that there is always life.

Those who live in fear cannot know the glory of the eternal life. For what is there to fear? The same philosopher, Moses Maimonides, as he is called, ended this sage work, "The Guide for the Perplexed," which had such a vast influence on Thomas Aquinas, with this ultimate paragraph:

"God is near to all who call Him, if they call Him in truth, and turn to Him. He is found by every one who seeks Him, if he always goes toward Him, and never goes astray . . ."

And this is the reminder of Easter. The world is dark; the clouds are black; the clamor of fierce noises are upon the Earth. Men speak of war and look upon their sons in disappointment. But Easter comes and the sun shines. It is Spring and the flowers soon will bloom. He who died has been resurrected and all that dies will be resurrected. And so, we cast our cares aside and put on our Easter bonnets and go among our neighbors with cheer and song.

Nothing ever dies. Life is everlasting and eternal. That is God's way. Were it not so, there could be no hope, no love, no life. Were it not so, populations would not increase, for why should the hopeless begot others who can only be hopeless. The life is given to the materialist, who sees nothing in life but dust to dust, by the constancy of the increase of human life. We multiply because life is good and those who really live do not fear death, for in their progeny they recognize the eternity of life. Nothing real stops because some make wars and not even the hydrogen bomb can frighten because it cannot really kill the spirit of those who trust God and are therefore not afraid.

Walter Arnold and myself as delegates to the Chamber of Commerce. At this writing we have not become members but we intend to do so. On inquiring I have been told the following items compose the Industrial Committee of the Chamber of Commerce as of February 25, 1953: M. F. Crowe, M. S. Baldwin, Gerald Anderson, Sanford Cleveland, Albert Gromer, Russell Jones, Murray Kiefer, Dale Leach, Chairman; Frank Patterson Jr., Howard Keiper, Robert Eastwick. My thought is that the merchants of the area should be as vitally interested in the move to obtain new industries as labor. I base my thinking on the fact that when labor is employed the merchants business is steady, when labor is idle business is affected.

Labor and business have a common interest. It is my thought that this area should be changed from a Suburban Area to an Industrial Area for the benefit of both business and labor. If new industries are obtained here and a good wage is paid by them, the Boroughs and the County will benefit from the taxes received through construction of new homes and buildings. The economic condition of the area will improve, and a healthy condition will exist for everyone, but the company or individual who does not want to pay a fair wage. It is my thought that a manufacturer cannot do full justice to either the laboring man or the merchant as a member of a committee responsible for obtaining new industry in a given area. The manufacturer would be working in opposition to his own interests if he encouraged the admission of new industries which would pay a higher wage rate than he is paying. I contend it is to labor's and the merchants' best interests to work together and see new industries are obtained.

Very truly yours,

RALPH PAUL,

TONGUE TIED!

See Congress Row Over Air Navigational System

Washington—Congressional investigators will soon make headlines with a major row over one of the most complicated situations ever to face them.

The battle will be over the Eisenhower administration's plans for requiring the nation's airfields to switch their costly navigational equipment over to a system backed by the Department of Defense. The move is scheduled for July 1.

In 1948, Congress passed a law which says civilian and military airfields must use the same navigational equipment to guide planes. It costs the government and private industry $200 million to install the present system. Now, it would cost millions more to make the switch. Everybody seems unhappy about the whole thing, and Congress is going to look into it.

What will complicate matters is the complexity of the old and the new systems. It may take some time before the investigators can understand the difference, much less decide what to do.

Quick change—Senator Karl E. Mundt (R), South Dakota, points to a personal experience as proof of the "lack of wisdom" of promising which way a lawmaker will vote on a bill until final language is determined.

Mundt recalls, for example, an anti-pollution bill he introduced in 1940—his second year in Congress. "It was one of my first bills," Mundt says. "I was as proud of it as a hunter with a new gun. However, just before committee action was completed the bill was amended and weakened."

The legislator said further amendments adopted on the floor finally made the measure more effective in delaying pollution control than in promoting it.

"Even though the bill carried my name," Mundt concludes, "it was so definitely a backward step that I spoke and voted against it on the floor of the House."

"It was an embarrassing experience, but it taught a stern and simple lesson. If a legislator is to do his job correctly he must be free to act on the floor of Congress or the legislature in conformity with the precise proposals then before him."

High road or low road—Controversy over the administration's highway program is centered on a traditional dispute—secondary and farm-to-market roads versus interstate heavy traffic arteries.

Principal emphasis in President Eisenhower's program was on a modern interstate system to be built over 10 years. Opponents claim that this would take most of the tax money available for highway building and leave little for lesser roads.

Administration supporters contend the President's program is necessary for defense and cite many deficiencies in the present system. Essentially, the problem is: How much can government at all levels spend and how should the maximum amount available be divided?

Another controversy rages over the proposal to borrow some $23 million to construct the interstate system. Since the loan would be repaid for 30 years or so, opponents say this will mean that more than half of the money would be needed to pay interest on the bonded indebtedness.

Red Smith suggests some new collective nouns to add to already familiar ones like a "pack" of wolves, a "pride" of lions, a "school" of fish, and a "bevy" of beauties. Mr. Smith's additions, all calculated to help poor, struggling sports reporters, include: A "yammer" of radio announcers, a "gangle" of basketball players, a "grouse" of baseball players, a "dove" of race stewards, a "quiescence" of prize fighters, and a "prevaporation" of golfers.

Robert S. Allen Reports

Eisenhower Knows Where Eden Stands On Formosa

President Eisenhower knows exactly where Britain's new Prime Minister Anthony Eden stands on the Formosa issue.

The President disclosed this in a White House discussion on this crisis. A prominent member of Congress suggested it might be advisable to state publicly exactly what the U. S. will do regarding the defense of Quemoy and Matsu Islands. The President vigorously shook his head against that.

"What is Britain going to do?" continued the legislator. "I have sounded out the new government over there about joining in the defense of Formosa if these coastal islands are evacuated?"

"We are fully informed of Eden's views and position," replied the President. "We don't have to negotiate on this. We understand each other clearly."

Dixie Whirl—Belgian Ambassador Silvercruys broke an exciting piece of news at the big banquet he gave for Vice President Nixon, that has the social queens all aflutter. Those who attended are still ching and ahing about this experience.

A touchy personal problem confronting American military advisers on Formosa is what to do with several hundred Nationalist generals and around 100 admirals who are on Chiang's active list but have no commands and no immediate prospects of any. Most of these officers are old friends of Chiang, and he explains they are being kept on the active roll in anticipation of getting commands when the Nationalists return to the mainland and take over large forces again.

Agency Surveys Thru-Ways

—by H. G. Heller

What happens to retail trade when a new highway is routed around a town's central business district?

The recent visit here of Secretary of Highways Joseph Lawler with his deputy secretary and chief engineer Gen. George Richards highlighted that question and produced an answer — an announcement that engineers are already working on such a project "with adequate connecting traffic lanes into the borough" off the thru-way now being engineered.

Oddly the state officials had barely left the community when the United States Chamber of Commerce came up with results of an exhaustive nation-wide survey study which put as a rigorous test the effect of such highway building on retail business.

The answer of that survey is — RETAIL SALES INCREASE. The reason, the Chambers says, is that traffic congestion is relieved, making it easier for customers to shop downtown.

It also points out that the traffic thru-ways outside a community upholds off the through traffic which represents "very little sales potential as compared with local traffic."

The western extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike opening in 1952 was cited by the Chambers as an example.

A number of towns involved in the thru-way proposal around their territory feared they would lose business, and some strongly opposed the project.

However, results have turned out uniformly good, the Chambers states.

Not only did business improve when bumper-to-bumper traffic was routed around the town, but the proximity of the new highway brought new industries which further boosted sales.

The United States Chamber of Commerce is interested in many things—but their principal interest everyone must concede is business.

This agency is interested primarily in anything or everything which affects business. That basic reason is why the survey of effects of thru-ways skirting business areas of municipalities was so painstakingly made.

Certainly, if the effect of such highway building had been adverse to any degree, the United States Chamber of Commerce would have said so—loud and long.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

Flight From Calorie Charts. The pro and con elements in the Great American Calorie Counting Epidemic are again as rarely before in the annals of weight reduction. There was a desertion from the dieting factions the other night, follow what was almost an AWOL from the bathroom scales. And it was a big one, Jackie Gleason. His surrender to fat, publicly proclaimed over national networks, was the Dietary Event of 1953, highly disturbing or immensely pleasing, according to how you feel about putting on the haybag.

Jackie had started a weekly weigh-in on his program, announcing his determination to how to the non-calorie values, let the pounds fall where they might. He shed several pounds fast. For a time it seemed he might wind up doubling for Fred Astaire. Then he went on a vacation in the non-calorie-counting regions. Suddenly he called the whole thing off. (Coward!) His slogan is now "Up I Go" rather than "Away We Go" and if Buck wants streamlined racy lines he's out of luck. The scales looked Gleason in the face and seemed to say, "You're a wonderful GROUP!" . . . And Jackie responded, "Get out of here!" . . .

In a way it was a national setback for diets, noncalorie foods, sports clothes, lettuce, hard-boiled eggs and skimmed milk, and a victory for giddle cakes with maple syrup, pizza pies, thick soups, the Idaho potato and Buck beer . . . Ye de has been dieting, too, and cheered Jackie's revolt. find it wholly excusable.

After four weeks of a diet which tastes like frittatine of post-office blotters, baked hide of croissants and arduous salad we have put on FOUR POUNDS! . . . Is there no justice? . . . Incidentally Gleason is adding weight so fast he must be getting paid off in British pounds.

Stroudsburg, April 1, 1953
To the Editor of The Daily Record:

I am chairman of a committee of the Central Labor Union appointed to meet with the Merchants of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg. The purpose of the proposed meetings was to discuss ways and means of obtaining new and diversified industries in this area, with the thought of eliminating unemployment. I contacted Mr. Arthur Widmer, Secretary of Stroudsburg Business Men's Association, and was informed by him that at the present time the Stroudsburg group did not have a full complement of officers. He said however that when they would be only too glad to receive our committee. I later contacted Mr. Hanford Cleveland, President of the East Stroudsburg Business Men's group, and was informed by Mr. Cleveland that he could not get that group together for a meeting with us. The Central Labor Union later appointed Mr.

Very truly yours,

Gov. Leader's Tax Program Still Closely Guarded Secret

'Guessers' Fail To Come Near Plans

HARRISBURG, April 8 (AP)—Gov. George M. Leader's tax program remained a closely guarded secret today as Atty. Gen. Herbert B. Cohen declared that none of the "guessers" have come near it.

"The tax program is not completely formulated," Cohen told a newsman. "In its present form of consideration it is not at all as portrayed by the guessers."

Speculation so far on how the governor will meet the Commonwealth's problem of raising an additional 400 to 500 million dollars in the next two years has centered on a modified form of income tax and a gross receipts tax patterned after Indiana's tax program.

Governor's office spokesmen will say no more than that all types of taxes are being reviewed. Leader, however, is pledged by his campaign promises to discontinue the state's sales tax.

"All the speculation, all the analyses and dope sheets on the proposed new tax program have been inaccurate," Cohen declared.

"The Leader program has been the best kept political secret in the history of the Commonwealth."

The attorney general, who attended two days of intensive tax parleys with the governor and legislative leaders this week, asserted further that "guessers in Harrisburg are doing a disservice to the Commonwealth" by spreading "unestablished reports."

"The presentation of the governor's tax program has not been guessed by anybody," said Cohen, and added:

"It should be construed from its entirety when it is presented to the Legislature."

Leader has said he expects to have the program pretty "well in mind" when the General Assembly reconvenes April 18 from its Easter recess.

The governor is to resume his tax conferences with legislative leaders and tax advisers early next week. Cohen also will be present.

The attorney general denied a report that at still another meeting yesterday Leader tried to convince state labor leaders that an income tax is needed.

Both the governor and the labor organization officials with-held comment on the session. Labor chiefs earlier had remained steadfast in their opposition to an income tax.

Attending the four-hour session at the executive mansion yesterday were Joseph A. McDonough, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor; Harry Boyer, president of the State CIO; Charles J. Shadden, representing the railroad brotherhood; and Lester Thomas, legislative representative of the United Mine Workers.

Representing the administration in addition to the governor were Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman; Atty. Gen. Cohen; and Henry B. Leader, the governor's brother and legislative secretary.

Barr said after the meeting that "there was very little said about taxes." He did not elaborate. Increased benefits under the workmen's compensation law were reportedly discussed at the meeting.

Barr last night virtually ruled out the possibility of adopting the Indiana gross receipts tax in Pennsylvania because "it takes in everything."

With $3,000 exemptions for retailers and $1,000 for wage earners, the Indiana levy ranges from 1/2 of one per cent to one per cent on those two categories and on wholesalers and unincorporated business.

Female Cancer Detection Easier Than With Male

(The second article in a series describing an actual "Five Point" examination designed to detect cancer.)

IN MATTERS of cancer detection the female is more fortunate than the male.

The reason: most female cancers can be found early. Since early cancers can almost always be cured, the chance for survival after cancer in the woman is much greater than in men.

Dr. Joseph Viglione, Stroudsburg physician and a member of the staff at Monroe County General Hospital, made this observation Thursday in the course of a routine "Five Point" examination.

He was talking to a woman who had volunteered to take the physical test as an illustration of its great value in detection of cancer.

Most female cancers occur in the breast and womb, the doctor continued. Because both of these areas receive close attention in the course of any regular checkup nearly all cervical or breast cancers can be found in their earliest phases.

In men the large percentage of developed cancers are found in the digestive system, the mouth, the skin, the genitals and—more recently—in the respiratory system.

None of these—with the exception of skin and mouth cancers—can be termed easy to find. At least one—cancer of the digestive tract—is nearly impossible to find, although new methods of detection and new tests will make the job easier.

The doctor's job in watching for cancer in the female is made much more difficult by one single thing: the fact that many women refuse to consult their physicians regularly—even when they have reached the critical age of 35 or are passing through menopause.

The woman taking the examination Thursday ventured an opinion that one reason for this might be that women disliked the idea of the examination itself.

Dr. Viglione agreed with this, in effect, but offered an additional explanation. Another reason for reluctance on the part of some women, he said, might be that "they are afraid an examination will turn up a diagnosis of cancer."

The fallacy in this thinking—in both theories—is that the "routine" physical may sometimes mean the difference between life and death. If a diagnosis of cancer should be found—and there is every possibility that there will be no cancer—the family doctor would be able to recommend either surgery or radium treatment in time to stop the cancer from spreading before it gets a head start.

The first half of the physical examination in a "Five Point" checkup is mostly routine. After the temperature has been taken, the pulsebeats counted, the respiration rate measured, the physician next turns to the first of the "five points."

At Dr. Viglione's office Thursday morning, the subject was then taken to a sunlit rear room of the office, seated in a chair and given a regular eye, ear, nose and throat examination.

The doctor then checked the muscular and fleshy tissues of the neck—which contain hundreds of lymph nodes, the tiny glands which hold a colorless, white corpuscle content called lymph. These nodes or glands, when enlarged, are often signs of body diseases, including cancer.

The patient's medical history had carried a notation of a thyroid condition. For this reason, particular attention was paid to the thyroid glands. Here, however, the entire thyroid was diffusely enlarged, the doctor said. Later, he pointed out that overall enlargement of the thyroid is not uncommon.

The logs were covered on the outside with weather boarding but still can be seen from the inside. Many of the pews were hand-carved.

The board of trustees met yesterday to consider suggestions that a cash award be offered for information leading to the arrest of the vandals.

Judge Calls For Advice To Study "Jeans"

PITTSBURGH, April 8 (AP)—Like most people, Federal Judge Wallace S. Gourley has trouble telling one pair of blue jeans from another.

And when a case involving the garments came up in U.S. District Court today, Judge Gourley called for help.

J. H. Levy and Son, a Cleveland firm, sought a preliminary injunction against Edward Textiles, Inc., of Sharon, Pa. The Levy concern claims the Sharon company is making children's blue jeans which look almost exactly like the Levy product.

Blue jeans are blue jeans, said Edward Textiles.

Judge Gourley turned down the preliminary injunction, but called an "advisory jury" to help him decide the case at a further hearing April 18.

Conservation Group Plans 'Soil' Sunday

DIRECTORS of the Monroe County Soil Conservation District met in Stroudsburg this week.

The meeting was held at the conservation office, 615 Sarah St. Amzi Altman, chairman, was in charge of the meeting.

Members discussed plans for "Soil Stewardship Sunday," May 15, and voted to contact ministers of all churches in the county to ask their cooperation.

Also discussed was the proposed soil survey project. Under this project plans call for a complete soil survey of the State within the next 10 years. The soil survey is jointly sponsored by the Federal government and the State.

Directors approved an application for a soil conservation plan made by Richard Walters, Hiltcrest Farms.

Besides Altman those in attendance were Raymond Baugher, vice chairman; William Almgartner, secretary-treasurer; John H. Kunkle, director; Wilmer B. Frisbie, county vocational ag adviser; and Norman Dietrick, soil conservationist for the county.

Licensing Of Salk Vaccine Due

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—A spokesman for the National Institutes of Health said today it is expected that the decision on the question of licensing the Salk anti-polio vaccine will be reached April 12 or 13.

He said that Dr. W. G. Workman, chief of the NIH's Biologics Control Laboratory, will be in Ann Arbor, Mich., for the announcement Tuesday, April 12, of the results of the evaluation study of last year's field tests of the vaccine.

Dr. Workman will immediately begin his analysis of the data, the spokesman said. He added, "It is a good guess that a decision on licensing will be reached either April 12 or 13."

The spokesman said six manufacturers have applied for licenses to make and sell the vaccine. Under the law, the secretary of welfare has the responsibility for issuance of such licenses on the basis of recommendations from the surgeon general of the Public Health Service. Technical advice to the surgeon general is prepared by the Biologics Control Laboratory.

Small Plane Crashes At Avoca Port

AVOCA, Pa., April 8 (AP)—A small airplane carrying three persons crashed today at the Scranton-Wilkes-Barre Airport. No one was hurt.

The plane, owned by Flight Service, Inc., Syracuse, N. Y., landed on its left wing. It didn't burn.

The pilot was identified as Richard McGrath, 39, of Syracuse. The two passengers were identified as A. G. Gibson of Watertown, N. Y., and G. A. Pennock of Syracuse, businessmen on their way to Lancaster, Pa. The three landed on a small plane and went on to Lancaster.

NEW YORK, April 8 (AP)—CBS announced today that Adlai E. Stevenson will deliver a coast-to-coast "fireside chat" on its radio network next Monday from 10 to 10:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

It was not announced what the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate would discuss in his first major address since last December. The speech will originate in Chicago.

Bulldozers Dig Town From Snow

ST. LAURENCE DE DORSET, Que., April 8 (AP)—Bulldozers worked around the clock today to free this farm village from snowdrifts. The village of 255 has been isolated 18 days.

Paul Henri Gilbert, owner of the bulldozers which began the rescue mission at noon said he hoped to clear the nine-mile road from St. Evariste, the nearest railway station, by late tonight. Snowbanks were as much as 15 feet deep.

Good Friday Services In Monroe County Churches Attract Many Worshippers

THE LAST WORDS of Jesus from the cross formed the core of Good Friday services in Monroe County churches yesterday.

Two union services were held—one in Stroudsburg, the other in East Stroudsburg. Participating ministers explained the final utterances to the congregations.

Catholic Churches in Monroe County, like all other churches, felt the swell of religious attendance to Good Friday services.

Churches were filled for the symbolic mass of the presanctified host. Later followed the other impressive symbolic service known as Stations of the Cross.

The worshippers came to the churches in small, family groups. Because the services were repeated at intervals between noon and 3 p.m., the crowds were seldom capacity-sized.

There were few persons on the streets of Stroudsburg. Stores were closed from noon to 3 to allow employees to attend the services, in both boroughs.

The Stroudsburg service was held at First Presbyterian Church. The East Stroudsburg service was held in the Presbyterian Church of that borough.

Other churches held services of their own. Christ Episcopal Church in Stroudsburg began its observance of Good Friday with a 10 a.m. litany and penitential service. Meditation and devotional services were held in the afternoon.

Services were held at St. John's Lutheran Church, Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

Conservation Group Plans 'Soil' Sunday

DIRECTORS of the Monroe County Soil Conservation District met in Stroudsburg this week.

The meeting was held at the conservation office, 615 Sarah St. Amzi Altman, chairman, was in charge of the meeting.

Members discussed plans for "Soil Stewardship Sunday," May 15, and voted to contact ministers of all churches in the county to ask their cooperation.

Also discussed was the proposed soil survey project. Under this project plans call for a complete soil survey of the State within the next 10 years. The soil survey is jointly sponsored by the Federal government and the State.

Directors approved an application for a soil conservation plan made by Richard Walters, Hiltcrest Farms.

Besides Altman those in attendance were Raymond Baugher, vice chairman; William Almgartner, secretary-treasurer; John H. Kunkle, director; Wilmer B. Frisbie, county vocational ag adviser; and Norman Dietrick, soil conservationist for the county.

Licensing Of Salk Vaccine Due

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—A spokesman for the National Institutes of Health said today it is expected that the decision on the question of licensing the Salk anti-polio vaccine will be reached April 12 or 13.

He said that Dr. W. G. Workman, chief of the NIH's Biologics Control Laboratory, will be in Ann Arbor, Mich., for the announcement Tuesday, April 12, of the results of the evaluation study of last year's field tests of the vaccine.

Dr. Workman will immediately begin his analysis of the data, the spokesman said. He added, "It is a good guess that a decision on licensing will be reached either April 12 or 13."

The spokesman said six manufacturers have applied for licenses to make and sell the vaccine. Under the law, the secretary of welfare has the responsibility for issuance of such licenses on the basis of recommendations from the surgeon general of the Public Health Service. Technical advice to the surgeon general is prepared by the Biologics Control Laboratory.

Pre-Easter Thought

There is some small comfort to women, now picking out their Easter outfits, in what happened to Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower the other day.

She and Mrs. Durries Crane, wife of a Washington manufacturer's representative, showed up at a reception in the same kind of dress . . . and the buzzing is still being heard throughout the land.

The dress was a bright blue-and-green print.

It can happen to anyone!

While we try never to miss a chance to point out the blessings of democracy which includes the freedom to dress as well as the next one . . . let's hasten on to the matter of handling such "embarrassing" situations.

In the capital society confrontation, Mrs. C. tried to make herself inconspicuous by quickly throwing on her mink cape.

Mrs. E. . . spotting her . . . said: "Don't hide it. I think it's pretty."

Well said . . . and graciously as befits a First Lady.

Pocono Mountains ladies may well give thought to what they'll do and say if and when they see their doubles in the Easter parade.

The Easter Season

Easter, with its promise of eternal hope, its supreme assurance — demonstrated by the Resurrection—that emphasis on the things of the spirit means every other good will follow, will be observed tomorrow by millions of worshippers all over the world.

The martyrdom of Jesus Christ—a man of good deeds, a just man, a man who gave to others without counting the cost—proves to us that man survives by his spiritual acts.

The evil, the men of bad faith, the destructive forces alive in the world at the time of Christ, are alive today, magnified many, many times.

These forces can be met and defeated

only on the basis that high spiritual values are the true way of life. And this is all backed by that great promise of Jesus, who proved it by triumph over the evil men of his day and the grave:

"Lo, I am with you always, even to the end of the world."

And during this same season Jews throughout the world reach the climax of the Passover observance which carries with it another promise—the promise of freedom.

Here are two great religious observances which provide mankind with a power founded in faith, a power which will sustain them in all times.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Not Even H-Bomb Can Frighten Because It Cannot Kill Those Who Trust In God

In ancient lore, it is said that King Solomon wore a ring upon which was engraved certain Hebrew letters. When asked what they meant, this wisest of men translated them into the phrase, "These too shall pass away."

And who shall say on Easter day that so optimistic an idea can be untrue? For Easter is a tale of 1922 years ago and it is still being celebrated, not as much as the story of a death as it is the sign of life, of life eternal, of the rhythmic resurrection of all that lives in this world.

In this age of science, we are beginning to grasp what the theologians always knew, namely, that there is no death. Nothing totally disappears. There may be change; there may be an alteration of form or even of substance, but in the economy of nature nothing is lost. There is no destruction without a fall-out, which returns to the Earth what left the Earth. This the men of God always knew — "I am the Resurrection!"

Mainonides, the 750th anniversary of whose death is to be observed this year, in his "The Guide for the Perplexed," wrote:

"Even the existence of this corporeal element, low as it is in reality, is because it is the source of death and all evils, is likewise good for the permanence of the Universe and the continuation of the order of things, so that one thing departs and the other succeeds. Rabbi Meir therefore explains the words 'and behold it was very good'; that even death was good."

St. Augustine speaks the same thought but more emotionally:

" . . . O what said he, I will lay me down and sleep, for who shall hinder us, when cometh to pass that saying which is written, Death is swallowed up in victory? And Thou surpassingly art the Self-same. Who are not changed; and in Thee is rest which forgetteth all toil, for there is none other with Thee, nor are we to seek those many other things, which are not what Thou art: But Thou, Lord, alone hast made me dwell in hope . . ."

This noble uplifting of the human spirit is inherent in the idea of the resurrection, in the gamut of tense activity in all of nature when that which during the winter months looked drab and brown and barren, suddenly again comes to life in a fierce struggle over the chilling, freezing death which we thought was upon us. As the sun grows warmer and the grass green again and the buds break out upon the trees, we know that there is no death. We see that there is always life.

Those who live in fear cannot know the glory of the eternal life. For what is there to fear?

The same philosopher, Moses Mainonides, as he is called, ended this sage work, "The Guide for the Perplexed," which had

See Congress Row Over Air Navigational System

Washington—Congressional investigators will soon make headlines with a major row over one of the most complicated situations ever to face them.

The battle will be over the Eisenhower administration's plans for requiring the nation's airfields to switch their costly navigational equipment over to a system backed by the Department of Defense.

The move is scheduled for July 1.

In 1948 Congress passed a law which says civilian and military airfields must use the same navigation equipment to guide planes. It cost the government and private industry $200 million to install the present system. Now, it would cost millions more to make the switch. Everybody seems unhappy about the whole thing, and Congress is going to look into it.

What will complicate matters is the complexity of the old and the new systems. It may take some time before the investigators can understand the difference, much less decide what to do.

Quick change—Senator Earl E. Mundi (R., South Dakota, points to a personal experience as proof of the "lack of wisdom" of promising which way a lawmaker will vote on a bill until final language is determined.

Mundi recalls, for example, an anti-pollution bill he introduced in 1946—his second year in Congress. "It was one of my first bills," Mundi says. "I was as proud of it as a hunter with a new gun. However, just before committee action was completed the bill was amended and weakened."

The legislator said further amendments adopted on the floor finally made the measure more effective in delaying pollution control than in promoting it.

"Even though the bill carried my name," Mundi concludes, "it was so definitely a backward step that I spoke and voted against it on the floor of the House."

"It was an embarrassing experience, but it taught a stern and simple lesson. If a legislator is to do his job correctly he must be free to act on the floor of Congress or the legislature in conformity with the precise proposals then before him."

High road or low road—Controversy over the administration's highway program is centered on a traditional dispute—secondary and farm-to-market roads versus interstate highway traffic arteries.

Principal emphasis in President Eisenhower's program was on a modern interstate system to be built over 10 years. Opponents claim that this would take most of the tax money available for highway building and leave little for feeder roads.

Administration supporters contend the President's program is necessary for defense and cite many deficiencies in the present system. Essentially, the problem is: How much can government at all levels spend and how should the maximum amount available be divided?

Another controversy rages over the proposal to borrow some $23 million to construct the interstate system. Since the loan would not be repaid for 30 years or so, opponents say this will mean that more than half of the money would be needed to pay interest on the bonded indebtedness.

Eisenhower Knows Where Eden Stands On Formosa

President Eisenhower knows exactly where Britain's new Prime Minister Anthony Eden stands on the Formosa issue.

The President disclosed this in a White House discussion on this crisis. A prominent member of Congress suggested it might be advisable to state publicly exactly what the U. S. will do regarding the defense of Quemoy and Matsu Islands. The President vigorously shook his head against that.

"What is Britain going to do?" continued the legislator. "Have we sounded out the new government over there about joining in the defense of Formosa if these coastal islands are evacuated?"

"We are fully informed of Eden's views and position," replied the President. "We don't have to negotiate on this. We understand each other clearly."

This menu consisted of Won Ton soup with dumplings, West Lake duck with anise, Beef Bock Toy, Egg Foo Yung, fried rice and exquisite egg rolls . . . A unique gastronomic event of a different kind was that of the Washington branch of the "Wine Tasters" in honor of France's new Ambassador de Murville. Several hundred guests partook of wines and accompanying viands. The wines came from the four great wine sections of France, two red wines and two white wines, each on a separate table. Those who attended are still ching and ahing about this experience.

A touchy personal problem confronting American military advisers on Formosa is what to do with several hundred Nationalist generals and around 100 admirals who are on Chiang's active list but have no commands and no immediate prospects of any. Most of these officers are old friends of Chiang, and he explains they are being kept on the active roll in anticipation of getting commands when the Nationalists return to the mainland and take over large forces again.

Agency Surveys Thru-Ways

—by H. G. Heller

What happens to retail trade when a new highway is routed around a town's central business district?

The recent visit here of Secretary of Highways Joseph Lawrence with his deputy secretary and chief engineer Gen. George Richards highlighted that question and produced an answer — announcement that engineers are already working on such a project "with adequate connecting traffic lanes into the borough" off the thru-way now being engineered.

Oddly the state officials had barely left the community when the United States Chamber of Commerce came up with results of an exhaustive nationwide survey study which put as a rigorous test the effect of such highway building on retail business.

The answer of that survey is — RETAIL SALES INCREASE.

The reason, the Chamber says, is that traffic congestion is relieved, making it easier for customers to shop downtown.

It also points out that the traffic thruphons outside a community shunt off the through traffic which represents "very little sales potential as compared with local traffic."

The western extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, opening in 1952 was cited by the Chamber as an example.

A number of towns involved in the thru-way proposal, around their territory feared they would lose business, and some strongly opposed the project.

However, results have turned out uniformly good, the Chamber states.

Not only did business improve when bumper-to-bumper traffic was routed around the town, but the proximity of the new highway brought new industries which further boosted sales.

The United States Chamber of Commerce is interested in many things—but their principal interest everyone must concede is business.

This agency is interested primarily in anything or everything which affects business. That basic reason is why the survey of effects of thru-ways skirting business areas of municipalities was so painstakingly made.

Certainly, if the effect of such highway building had been adverse to any degree, the United States Chamber of Commerce would have said so—loud and long.

Flight From Caloric Charts

The pro and con elements in the Great American Caloric Counting Epidemic are again as rarely before in the annals of weight reduction. There was a desertion from the dieting factions the other night, follow-what was almost an AWOL from the bathroom scales. And it was a big one. Jackie Gleason. His surrender to fat, publicly proclaimed over national networks, was the Dietary Event of 1953, highly disturbing or immensely pleasing, according to how you feel about putting on the haybag.

Jackie had started a weekly weigh-in on his program, announcing his determination to how to the non-caloric values, let the pounds fall where they might. For a time it seemed he might wind up doubling for Fred Astaire. Then he went on a vacation in the noncaloric-counting regions. Suddenly he called the whole thing off. (Coward?) His slogan is now "Up I Go" rather than "Away We Go" and if Buck wants streamlined rays lines he's out of luck. The scales looked Gleason in the face and seemed to say, "You're a wonderful GROUP."

And Jackie responded, "Get out of here!" . . . In a way it was a national setback for diets, noncaloric foods, sports clothes, lettuce, hard-boiled eggs and skimmed milk, and a victory for griddle cakes with maple syrup, pizza pies, thick soup, the Idaho potato and Rock beer . . . Letters To The Editor

To the Editor of The Daily Record:

Dear Sir:

I am chairman of a committee the Central Labor Union appointed to meet with the Merchants of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg. The purpose of the proposed meetings was to discuss ways and means of obtaining new and diversified industries in this area, with the thought of eliminating unemployment. I contacted Mr. Arthur Widmer, Secretary of Stroudsburg Business Men's Association, and was informed by him that at the present time the Stroudsburg group did not have a full complement of officers. He said however that when they did succeed in organizing they would be only too glad to receive our committee. I later contacted Mr. Hanford Cleveland, President of the East Stroudsburg Business Men's group, and was informed by Mr. Cleveland that he could not get that group together for a meeting with us. The Central Labor Union later appointed Mr.

Walter Arnold and myself as delegates to the Chamber of Commerce. At this writing we have not become members but we intend to do so. On inquiring I have been told the following men compose the Industrial Committee of the Chamber of Commerce as of February 25, 1953: M. F. Crowe, M. S. Baldwin, Gerald Anderson, Hanford Cleveland, Albert Groner, Russell Jones, Murrel Kiefer, Dale Learn, Chairman; Frank Peterson Jr., Howard Keiper, Robert Eastwick. My thought is that the merchants of the area should be as vitally interested in the move to obtain new industries as labor. I base my thinking on the fact that when labor is employed the merchants business is steady, when labor is idle business is affected.

Labor and business have a common interest. It is my thought that this area should be changed from a Suburba Area to an Industrial Area for the benefit of both business and labor. If new industries are obtained here and a Borough is paid by them, the Good Works and the County will benefit from the taxes received through construction of new homes and buildings. The economic condition of the area will improve, and a healthy condition will exist for everyone, but the company or individual who does not want to pay a fair wage. It is my thought that a manufacturer cannot do full justice to either the laboring man or the merchant as a member of a committee responsible for obtaining new industry in a given area. The manufacturer would be working in opposition to his own interests if he encouraged the admission of new industries which would pay a higher wage rate than he is paying. I contend it is to labor's and the merchants' best interests to work together and see new industries are obtained.

Very truly yours,
RALPH PAUL,

Gov. Leader's Tax Program Still Closely Guarded Secret

'Guessers' Fail To Come Near Plans

HARRISBURG, April 8 (P)—Gov. George M. Leader's tax program remained a closely guarded secret today as Atty. Gen. Herbert B. Cohen declared that none of the "guessers" have come near it.

"The tax program is not completely formulated," Cohen told a newsman. "In its present form of consideration it is not at all as portrayed by the guessers."

Speculation so far on how the governor will meet the Commonwealth's problem of raising an additional 400 to 500 million dollars in the next two years has centered on a modified form of income tax and a gross receipts tax patterned after Indiana's tax program.

Governor's office spokesmen will say no more than that all types of taxes are being reviewed. Leader, however, is pledged by his campaign promises to discontinue the state's sales tax.

"All the speculation, all the analyses and dope sheets on the proposed new tax program have been inaccurate," Cohen declared.

"The Leader program has been the best kept political secret in the history of the Commonwealth."

The attorney general, who attended two days of intensive tax parleys with the governor and legislative leaders this week, asserted further that "guessers in Harrisburg are doing a disservice to the Commonwealth" by spreading "unsubstantiated reports."

"The presentation of the governor's tax program has not been guessed by anybody," said Cohen, and added:

"It should be construed from its entirety when it is presented to the Legislature."

Leader has said he expects to have the program pretty "well in mind" when the General Assembly reconvenes April 18 from its Easter recess.

The governor is to resume his tax conferences with legislative leaders and tax advisers early next week, Cohen also will be present.

The attorney general denied a report that at still another meeting yesterday Leader tried to convince state labor leaders that an income tax is needed.

Both the governor and the labor organization officials who held the session, however, said they were steadfast in their opposition to an income tax.

Attending the four-hour session at the executive mansion yesterday were Joseph A. McDonough, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor; Harry Boyer, president of the State CIO; Charles J. Shadden, representing the railroad brotherhoods, and Lester Thomas, legislative representative of the United Mine Workers.

Representing the administration in addition to the governor were Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman; Atty. Gen. Cohen, and Henry B. Leader, the governor's brother and legislative secretary.

Barr said after the meeting that "there was very little said about taxes." He did not elaborate. Increased benefits under the workmen's compensation law were reportedly discussed at the meeting.

Barr last night virtually ruled out the possibility of adopting the Indiana gross receipts tax in Pennsylvania because "it takes in everything."

With $3,000 exemptions for retailers and $1,000 for wage earners, the Indiana levy ranges from 1/2 of one per cent to one per cent on those two categories and on wholesalers and unincorporated business.

Female Cancer Detection Easier Than With Male

(The second article in a series describing an actual "Five Point" examination designed to detect cancer.)

IN MATTERS of cancer detection the female is more fortunate than the male.

The reason: most female cancers can be found early. Since early cancers can almost always be cured, the chance for survival after cancer in the woman is much greater than in men.

Dr. Joseph Vignone, Stroudsburg physician and a member of the staff at Monroe County General Hospital, made this observation Thursday in the course of a routine "Five Point" examination.

He was talking to a woman who had volunteered to take the physical test as an illustration of its great value in detection of cancer.

Most female cancers occur in the breast and womb, the doctor continued. Because both of these areas receive close attention in the course of any regular checkup nearly all cervical or breast cancers can be found in their earliest phases.

In men the large percentage of developed cancers are found in the digestive system, the mouth, the skin, the genitals and—more recently—in the respiratory system.

None of these—with the exception of skin and mouth cancers—can be termed easy to find. At least one—cancer of the digestive tract—is nearly impossible to find, although new methods of detection and new tests will make the job easier.

The doctor's job in watching for cancer in the female is made much more difficult by one single thing: the fact that many women refuse to consult their physicians regularly—even when they have reached the critical age of 35 or are passing through menopause.

The woman taking the examination Thursday ventured an opinion that one reason for this might be that women disliked the idea of the examination itself.

Dr. Vignone agreed with this, in effect, but offered an additional explanation. Another reason for reluctance on the part of some women, he said, might be that "they are afraid an examination will turn up a diagnosis of cancer."

The fallacy in this thinking—in both theories—is that the "routine" physical may sometimes mean the difference between life and death. If a diagnosis of cancer should be found—and there is every possibility that there will be no cancer—the family doctor would be able to recommend either surgery or radium treatment in time to stop the cancer from spreading before it gets a head start.

The first half of the physical examination in a "Five Point" checkup is mostly routine. After the temperature has been taken, the pulsebeat counted, the respiration rate measured, the physician next turns to the first of the "five points."

At Dr. Vignone's office Thursday morning, the subject was then taken to a sunlit rear room of the office, seated in a chair and given a regular eye, ear, nose and throat examination.

The doctor then checked the muscular and fleshy tissues of the neck—which contain hundreds of lymph nodes—the tiny glands which hold a colorless, white corpuscle content called lymph. These nodes or glands, when enlarged, are often signs of body diseases, including cancer.

The patient's medical history had carried a notation of a thyroid condition. For this reason, particular attention was paid to the thyroid glands. Here, however, the entire thyroid was diffusely enlarged, the doctor said. Later, he pointed out that overall enlargement of the thyroid is not considered a cancer sign. One lump—especially if it appears hard to the touch—would be considered dangerous, however, he said.

Next stop on the examination list was the fluoroscope. This machine, to reduce its function to simplicity, is an X-ray-shooting device which permits the examining physician seated in front of the patient to watch the interior of the patient's chest in action.

The fluoroscope—like the small-negative X-ray machine—is not the final answer to the doctor's search for knowledge of the lung-heart-chest area. It is a serviceable "screening" device, however, which will almost always show signs of trouble in the respiratory system.

The woman stood in front of the machine, her back against the machine-board. A "screen" roughly the size of a 17-inch television set—was swung in front of her. The doctor seated himself directly in front of the machine, facing the screen and the patient.

He pressed a foot switch. Suddenly there flashed on the screen the shadowy outline of the chest—the ribs, right lobe of the lung and the upper portion of the abdomen.

As the subject breathed the diaphragm, visible in the lower part of the picture, contracted and expanded. One sign of lung cancer, the doctor pointed out, is the failure of the diaphragm to contract.

The screen was swung to the patient's left side. The shadowed image of the heart's pumping action stood out clearly and sharply. There were no signs of anything in the picture save the normal actions and conditions of a healthy chest area.

The machine was switched off. The woman and the nurse went into the next room to get ready for the last part of the examination.

(Next: Cancer of the breast or womb.)

Small Plane Crashes At Avoca Port

AVOCA, Pa., April 8 (P)—A small airplane carrying three persons crashed today at the Scranton-Wilkes-Barre Airport. No one was hurt.

The plane, owned by Flight Service, Inc., Syracuse, N. Y., landed on its left wing. It didn't burn.

The pilot was identified as Richard McGrath, 39, of Syracuse. The two passengers were identified as A. G. Gibson of Watertown, N. Y., and G. A. Pennock of Syracuse, businessmen on their way to Lancaster, Pa. The three boarded another small plane and went on to Lancaster.

Conservation Group Plans 'Soil' Sunday

DIRECTORS OF the Monroe County Soil Conservation District met in Stroudsburg this week.

The meeting was held at the conservation office, 615 Sarah St., Anzi Altomere, chairman, was in charge of the meeting.

Members discussed plans for "Soil Stewardship Sunday," May 15, and voted to contact ministers of all churches in the county to ask their cooperation.

Also discussed was the proposed soil survey project. Under this project plans call for a complete soil survey of the State within the next 10 years. The soil survey is jointly sponsored by the Federal government and the State.

Directors approved an application for a soil conservation plan made by Richard Walters, Hillcrest Farms.

Besides Altomere those in attendance were Raymond Allegre, vice chairman; William Baumgartner, secretary-treasurer; John H. Kunkle, director; Wilmer E. Frisbie, county vocational aid adviser and Norman Dietrick, soil conservationist for the county.

Licensing Of Salk Vaccine Due

WASHINGTON, April 8 (P)—A spokesman for the National Institutes of Health said today it is expected that the decision on the question of licensing the Salk anti-polio vaccine will be reached April 12 or 13.

He said that Dr. W. G. Workman, chief of the NIH's Biologicals Control Laboratory, will be in Ann Arbor, Mich., for the announcement Tuesday, April 12, of the results of the evaluation study of last year's field tests of the vaccine.

Dr. Workman will immediately begin his analysis of the data, the spokesman said. He added, "It is a good guess that a decision on licensing will be reached either April 12 or 13."

The spokesman said six manufacturers have applied for licenses to make and sell the vaccine.

Under law, the secretary of welfare has the responsibility for issuance of such licenses on the basis of recommendations from the surgeon general of the Public Health Service. Technical advice to the surgeon general is prepared by the Biologicals Control Laboratory.

Geo. Hay Police Reserve Speaker

GEORGE B. Hay, ticket agent and telegrapher at the East Stroudsburg office of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad, will be guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Police Reserve Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Italian Club.

Hay will explain more code and the use of the telegraph key in his talk. A business meeting will be held following the talk. All members are requested to attend.

Good Friday Services In Monroe County Churches

THE LAST WORDS of Jesus from the cross formed the core of Good Friday services in Monroe County churches yesterday.

Two union services were held—one in Stroudsburg, the other in East Stroudsburg. Participating ministers explained the final utterances to the congregations.

Catholic Churches in Monroe County, like all other churches, felt the swell of religious attendance to Good Friday services.

Churches were filled for the symbolic mass of the presanctified host. Later followed the other impressive symbolic service known as Stations of the Cross.

The worshippers came to the churches in small, family groups. Because the services were repeated at intervals between noon and 3 p.m., the crowds were seldom capacity-sized.

There were few persons on the streets of Stroudsburg. Stores were closed from noon to 3 to allow employees to attend the services, in both boroughs.

The Stroudsburg service was held at First Presbyterian Church. The East Stroudsburg service was held in the Presbyterian Church of that borough.

Other churches held services of their own. Christ Episcopal Church in Stroudsburg began its observance of Good Friday with a 10 a.m. litany and penitential service. Meditation and devotional services were held in the afternoon.

Services were held at St. John's Lutheran Church, Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

Clarence Rutt, chairman of the Elks Foundation and Scholarship Fund campaign, reported progress in reaching the goal, $200 for the Elks Foundation, which has been paid, and $500 for the scholarship. Members are asked to make their donations to members of the committee.

Announcement was made the annual bowling banquet would be held Saturday night, April 16, at 7. Bowlers' wives and others interested are welcome to participate, it was stated.

The next meeting of the Northeast Pennsylvania District Assn. meeting will be held at Lansford, Pa., Sunday, May 1, when Daniel J. Rose of that place, a past district deputy grand exalted ruler, will be installed as president.

"I Took A Vacation From Worry"

"Every year when we took our vacation, I'd worry about our house and wonder about fire, I'd worry about getting into a costly auto accident or law suit in some strange town hundreds of miles from Stroudsburg."

"But this year I took a vacation from these worries. I called 2810 and arranged with C. H. Crome Company, Inc. for all-around protection. And guess, the cost was so little I'm sorry I didn't call Crome sooner."

Joyce Miller Is Bride Of Chamberlin

Miss Joyce B. Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Miller, East Stroudsburg, RD 2 was married on Sunday afternoon, April 3, at 2 o'clock in the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church, to William L. Chamberlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chamberlin, 288 North Courtland Street, East Stroudsburg.

Rev. Harold C. Eaton performed the ceremony. A cross of lilies formed the altar decorations. Walter Sebring was guest speaker, and the church organist, Mrs. Jean Maxwell, played traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina-length gown of tulle over satin. The fitted bodice had a high collar and buttoned down the back. The sleeves were long and the skirt very full. Her veil fell from a crown trimmed with white sequins and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and gardenias.

Mrs. Charlotte Miller, sister-in-law of the bride, was her matron of honor. She wore a ballerina-length gown of coral, with a matching veiled headpiece and a cascade bouquet of pink roses and gardenias.

Albert Rice served as best man and the ushers were Robert Chamberlin, brother of the bridegroom, and Frank Miller Jr., brother of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a powder blue dress with white hat and a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception for friends and families was held in the dining room of the church.

For their wedding trip, they went to Rhode Island and are now making their home at East Stroudsburg RD 2. The bride is employed at the Local Finance Company. The bridegroom, who served in the U. S. Navy, is employed at the United Army and Navy Store.

Marie Kaul Engaged To N. Keesler

Music Master To Conduct Clinic With Club Chorus

The Stroudsburg Music Study Club members are flexing their voices for their April meeting which will be held on Wednesday, April 13, at the Stroud Community House instead of the regular Tuesday night.

Prof. John D. Raymond, director of music at Lafayette College, is to be there on Wednesday night to conduct a clinic on choral singing. Members will meet on Tuesday night to rehearse the numbers they plan to sing for his criticism.

The Stroudsburg Clinic is one of 17 similar engagements off campus which Raymond is conducting this year. Many of them are state wide groups such as the Florida All-State High School Vocal Clinic, the Massachusetts All-State High School Chorus, the Pennsylvania All-State High School Chorus and similar choral groups in Rhode Island, Mississippi, and a Tri-State High School Music Festival in Oklahoma.

Raymond is a stag member of the Fred Waring Educational Organization during the Summer Choral Workshop Sessions at Delaware Water Gap. At Lafayette he is director of the choir of 70 men, of the marching band of 70 and the concert band of 55 men, and the string ensemble of 24 men.

John D. Raymond

Stressing diction, consonants and vowels, Raymond achieves an unusual clarity in the vocal groups with which he works.

Congregations Combine For Holy Thursday

The congregations of the Shawnee and Middle Smithfield Presbyterian Churches combined to partake of the sacrament of Holy Communion on Maundy Thursday at the Middle Smithfield Church.

In an atmosphere of candlelight and Easter lilies, two young people professed their faith in Christ and became members of the Middle Smithfield church. They were Sue and Sandy Wicks.

Elders who administered the bread and the cup were Omar Michaels, Shawnee; Arthur Courtwright, Clarence MacWilliams, Mahlon Hallett and Alvin DeWitt Sr., of Middle Smithfield.

Rev. David Newquist in his Communion Meditation used the theme, "The Miracle of the Redemption" in which he emphasized the truth of Scripture that Christ died not for the collective salvation of the world but for the salvation of the individual, and that only those who recognized Him as Lord could partake of the miracle of the redemption.

The anthem, sung by the Shawnee Choir was "Let Us Break Bread Together". Organist was Alvin DeWitt Jr.

Artist To Speak On Home Color

The Stroudsburg Woman's Club will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Community House on Monday, April 11 at 2:15. The speaker will be Harve Goulet, artist and designer. His subject will be, "Are You Afraid of Color?"

Goulet is now on the staff of one of Philadelphia's largest department stores and an art teacher for classes in adult education. His family background is French but he himself is a New England artist, well known for his marine pictures and village scenes. He has been represented in the National Gallery in Washington, the Sweet Museum in Portland, Maine, the Springfield Water Color Club and has had "one-man shows" in Bedford and Canada.

He has traveled and studied in France, Mexico and Canada and is an authority on interior decorating and flower arrangements. He will illustrate his lecture by using handsome fabrics that express personality through color.

Mrs. Claude W. Leister, program chairman, has arranged for club members to bring pictures that can be used as suggestions for home decoration where harmonious color is the key note and can be tied in with seasonal flower arrangements.

At the last board meeting the club voted a donation of $10 for the Cancer Association.

The hostesses will be Mrs. Frank M. Kerr, Mrs. Thomas J. Kison, Mrs. Russell Balmer, Mrs. J. Frank Grimm, and Mrs. Robert Miller. Mrs. Harold Ingraham and Mrs. Paul Lloyd will pour.

Wondering how to vary those lunch box sandwiches? Mix ground cooked ham with a little well-drained crushed pineapple and mayonnaise and use as a spread for slices of nut bread. A little prepared mustard may be added to the spread if desired.

A pound can of corned beef hash can be turned into a small meat loaf if it is mixed with a lightly beaten egg, a quarter cup of milk, a cup of firmly packed soft bread crumbs and a little grated onion. Bake in a moderate oven until firm through.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

Easter, more than perhaps any other season, is a time of contrasts. Our Bible describes the horror of the three hours on Good Friday when Christ suffered upon the Cross . . . and we can visualize the anguish and tears of His followers; the hatred and rioting of those who feared Him; and the intense pain of Mary, His mother, and of that other Mary, whom they called The Magdalene.

We can picture too, the peace of Joseph's garden, where He was finally taken to rest . . . the skies which had lightened and become serene after the darkening storm of Friday, when the earth had trembled in protest at the treatment accorded the Son of God . . . the flowers, virginal and lovely in their soft, springtime colors . . . and the undisturbed singing of the birds.

After this, of course, we have the great crescendo of awakening which was the triumph of Easter morning, with its first evidence of the Resurrection.

No other season has, for a Christian, so much beauty, meaning, or drama.

We at Wyckoff's are thinking of all this today . . . and reverently facing the miracle of Easter. It is our hope that, whatever your faith, some of the great joy of this Christian observance may gladden and bless you, and those whom you love. May yours be a most joyous weekend, and may the blessings of Easter continue to enrich us all through the years ahead.

Tannersville Reformed Worship Plans

THE SACRAMENT of The Holy Communion will be observed in two congregations of the Tannersville parish of the Reformed Church, Rev. William K. Foose, pastor.

At 10:30 members of Grace Church will receive the Holy Communion. At this service, also, two infants will receive Baptism. Prior to the reading of the Holy Scriptures, two families of the congregation will present to the church a new Standard Revised Version Pulpit Bible. Miss Jeanne Gurr, a member of the congregation, will sing an Easter selection. The adult choir will sing an Easter anthem.

The members of St. Mark's Church will receive the Communion at 2:30. At this service two infants will receive Baptism, and four persons will be received into full membership of the church. The choir will sing.

An early morning worship service will be held at Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church, Pocono Lake. The service will begin at 7:00 and is being planned and arranged by the Faith, Hope, Charity Class of the Sunday School. Members of the class will participate in the service. The choir will sing an anthem. The pastor, Rev.

Jehovah's Witnesses Memorial

JEHOVAH'S witnesses are having an active week, the spokesman for the group announced. After the worldwide public talk last Sunday: "Christendom or Christianity—Which Is The Light of the World?", the yearly Memorial service was held on Thursday, April 7.

It was brought out that Jesus instituted this service to be held once a year in commemoration of his death and to mark the change-over from the old law covenant to the new covenant for God's Kingdom.

Arrangements were made at these services here and at Brodheadsville for the widest possible distribution of a booklet containing Sunday's talk.

I said it in LIFE and I'll say it again — you can't do shirts like a professional laundry!

You're right, son... when we dress Dad's shirts with Velvet Rainbow — there can't be any comparison. Mommy is a specialist in home-making... not a slave to a hot ironing board. Besides she would have more time to play with you. One big reason why Mommy can't match the job we do is the kind of starch she uses. We use Velvet Rainbow. It isn't sold retail. A-421

RILEY

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

ALTHOUGH THE Bi-State League won't open its season until the end of the various high school campaigns, the newly formed Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg more than any club in recent years. The fact that it will give the young ball players a chance to strut their stuff is one of the popular features. The women of both boroughs have chipped in with great spirit and are helping to raise funds for the organization. The women are handling most of the details for the club's benefit party to be held at the Odd Fellow's Hall, Stroudsburg, Monday, at 8 p.m.

The portion of Memorial Stadium located behind the benches of both football teams during a game is now under development. About two thirds of this area has been filled in and grass will be planted sometime this month. The Cavaliers will undoubtedly do their football practicing on this area next fall. When the remainder of this portion of Memorial Stadium is filled in and grass planted, the school may construct a baseball field. The East Stroudsburg High athletic field is rapidly developing into one of the best in the country.

Stroudsburg High is also fortunate to have an outstanding athletic terrain like Gordon Giffels Field. Glen Brook Country Club officials are hopeful that the weatherman will give them a break next Saturday when the local club opens for the season. Bill Shires, former East Stroudsburg State Teachers College baseball star and now a farm hand of the Pittsburgh Pirates, is scheduled to depart for the baseball wars in the very near future. Bill had lived in East Stroudsburg for the past several years.

John Gallagher, a graduate of ENSTC, is receiving a great deal of credit for St. Rose, Carbondale, winning the Pennsylvania Catholic School basketball championship this year, even though John coaches Scranton Prep. Gallagher scouted all the tough foes for the Roses in the playoff grind and turned in a brilliant job. St. Rose defeated Prep for the Scranton championship last season and then invited the Prep coach to be one of the main speakers at the victory celebration. Gallagher, who learned most of his basketball from our own Ray Welsh, is considered to have one of the top basketball brains in the Scranton area.

John O'Leary, very popular catcher with the Stroudsburg Pocono of the new defunct class "D" North Atlantic League, in 1947, was recently released by Augusta, Ia., of the class "A" South Atlantic League. John, a long ball sifter, was sent to Rock Hill, of the class "B" Tri-State League. It was only two years ago that the fun loving O'Leary caught virtually every game of the season for Augusta, including doubleheaders.

The Stroudsburg-Palmerston Lehigh Valley League baseball game, listed for Friday, April 22, will get underway at 3:30 p.m. Everything after that is slated to begin at 4 p.m. The reason for the early start of the opening game is the fact that daylight saving time doesn't take over until after the first struggle on the schedule. Look for a couple of lineup changes between the Stroudsburg club which recently lost to the faculty and the one which faces Palmerston.

Those men who promised to assist the Stroudsburg Little League with its park repairs are reminded that the task is scheduled to take place at 8 a.m. today. This circuit appears headed toward one of its ugliest seasons in history. Repairs have been made to the East Stroudsburg Playground baseball field. The Kunkleton Fire Company is forming a softball team this season and is anxious to book games. Bill Pensyl, basketball and baseball star at East Stroudsburg High, is to be congratulated today.

Pensyl was named to the Little All-Pennsylvania basketball team by the Associated Press yesterday. This team includes players from class "B" and "C" schools. The selection isn't exactly correct. East Stroudsburg has a class "B" enrollment, but in case it would earn a spot in post-season playoffs in any sport, the Cavaliers would face only class "A" opposition.

Hal Contini, manager of the Lebanon entry in the North Atlantic League for two years, is now operating a service station in Park Ridge, N. J. Hal used to be one of the favorite targets of the Stroudsburg fans.

Pocono Mountains League Lists Baseball Schedule

Two Holiday Dates Feature Season Play

SAYLORSBURG—Pocono Mountains League baseball teams will play 16 Sunday games and two holiday contests this coming season according to the official schedule released here yesterday by John Wernett, circuit official.

Anomink, Barrett, Bushkill, Kunkleton and West End A. C. will play the role of hosts on opening day, Sunday, May 1, according to the official listings made public by Wernett.

Saylorsburg, last year's post-season playoff title holder, opens against Bushkill, on the latter's home field, Pocono Lake, pennant winner last season, is no longer in the league.

All games will begin at 2 p.m. The schedule calls for action each Sunday for 16 weeks and single games on Memorial Day and the Fourth of July.

Action is slated to end on Sunday, August 14. A post-season playoff encounter will follow the regular pennant race, with the top four clubs in contention.

One Penn Patron Angry

PHILADELPHIA, April 8 (AP)—The University of Pennsylvania sent out an athletic questionnaire to its football season ticket holders asking opinions on everything from the schedule to the quality of the hot dogs.

A year ago on a similar questionnaire I requested better seats and was moved from the Penn stands to the other side of the field.

P.S. Penn failed to win a game.

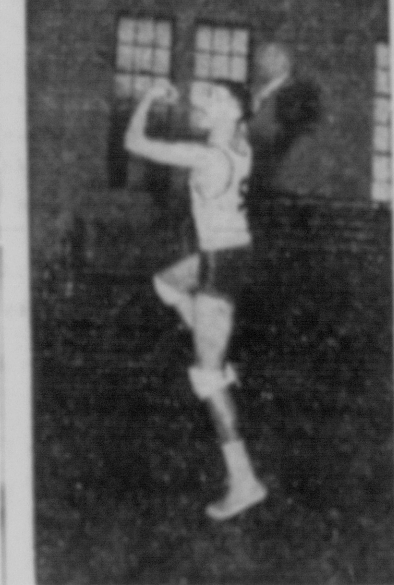

Howard Wins Job With Yanks
WILMINGTON, Del., April 8 (AP)—Elston Howard today was assured of becoming the first Negro to wear a New York Yankees uniform during the regular season when Manager Casey Stengel said the 26-year-old St. Louis native had won a job as No. 2 catcher.

Fountain Hill Star Named To Little All-State Cage Berth

By Richard L. Graves
HARRISBURG, April 8 (AP)—A pair of veteran All Staters, one of them the state's leading high school scorer, head the 1955 Associated Press Little All State basketball team.

Don Henson of Warrington, who scored 1,003 points for the season, and Jay Metzler of Donegal Joint High School, were among the top five vote getters of the 6th annual team selected by more than 100 coaches, sportswriters and sportscasters throughout the state.

Joining them were Gerry Berger

Pensyl Earns Honorable Mention Spot

BILL PENSYL, East Stroudsburg High School's high scoring center, won honorable mention on the Associated Press Little All-Pennsylvania basketball team announced yesterday.

The Little All-Penn squad is chosen from class "B" and "C" schools as far as enrollment is concerned.

Pensyl is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Pensyl, Portland.

The East Stroudsburg star finished as the number five point producer in the entire Lehigh-Northampton League last season, despite the fact he missed three games because of a sprain fracture of the left ankle. Bill only played parts of the first two contests when he returned to action, as Coach Dick Foster refused to take any chances of further injury.

Pensyl wound up the Lehigh-Northampton League campaign with 261 points, on 99 goals from the floor and 63 from the foul line.

The Portland resident is six feet, three inches tall and weighs 195 pounds. He is a senior, an academic student and is 18 years of age.

Pensyl has received several offers from colleges and is regarded by many veteran observers to be one of the best players to ever perform for the Mountaineers. Pensyl has a great variation of shots and is particularly deadly with one-handers from 15 feet out.

The East Stroudsburg star set a school single game scoring mark last season when he tallied 37 points against Hellertown, on the Hellertown court. Ray Steele and Bob "Red" Kupiszewski previously had shared the record at 32 points.

"That's great news," remarked Coach Foster when informed of Pensyl's choice. "He's worked hard for the past three years and deserves the outstanding honor," Foster concluded.

Pensyl also plays first base on the baseball team.

Jerry Berger, Fountain Hill star, who was named to the first Little All-State team, finished in the Lehigh-Northampton League point race with 292 markers in 16 games.

Dick Korman, another Fountain Hill standout, also won honorable mention on the squad selected yesterday. Korman finished eighth in the LNL scoring race with 80 field goals and 37 foul shots for a total of 197 points.

Howard "Howie" Bortree, towering center for Moscow High, champion of the Wayne County Conference and District 12, earned a berth on the second Little All-State squad. Bortree was one of the standout players in last December's East Stroudsburg Invitation Basketball Tournament.

Bortree led Moscow to the tournament championship.

Indiana Athlete Draws Penalty
BLOOMINGDALE, Ind., April 8 (AP)—An Indiana University football player charged with throwing a beer can from an automobile has been ordered to pick up 200 empty beer cans from the city's streets and nearby highways.

City Judge Horace Karshall gave the order yesterday to Ted Karras of Gary, Ind., in lieu of a $25 fine.

Howard Wins Job With Yanks
WILMINGTON, Del., April 8 (AP)—Elston Howard today was assured of becoming the first Negro to wear a New York Yankees uniform during the regular season when Manager Casey Stengel said the 26-year-old St. Louis native had won a job as No. 2 catcher.

Howard was tried as both an outfielder and backstop in spring training. "He's not a major league outfielder," Stengel said. "But he is definitely my catcher behind Yogi Berra."

of Fountain Hill, Paul Kelso of Darby and Gary Peters of Mercer. The team represents the top schoolboy players from basketball teams in schools with less than 500 students.

Four members of the team represent the state champion, state runnerup and two regional runnersup. Ballot points were tabulated for team honors on the basis of 10 for first choice, 9 for second, etc.

Though short on height, the 1955 team is long on point making ability and experience. The team av-

Jones Cools Johnson In Fifth Round

ST. LOUIS, April 8 (AP)—Ralph (Tiger) Jones stunned George Johnson with a left and right to the head and left him helpless against the ropes with a flurry of blows for a technical knockout to night after two minutes and one second of the fifth round of their bout, scheduled for 10 rounds.

Johnson weighed 158½, Johnson 155. The New York middleweight hammered Johnson, a part Seminoe Indian from Trenton, N.J., with perhaps 12 or 15 blows as Johnson lay back against the ropes with his arms outstretched.

Although Johnson didn't go down, he was a wide open target and Referee Harry Kessler stepped in to call a halt to the nationally televised bout.

Johnson opened up an id cut alongside Jones' right eye in the third round with a sharp left jab. The Tiger, apparently sensing the fight might be stopped if the cut opened wider, stepped up his attack.

Jones, boring in with his usual flat-footed, aggressive style, quick-fist took charge in the fourth round and shook Johnson several times with a series of left hooks to the body.

Both Judges Fred Conneli and Howard Hess had the two fighters even at 20 points each going into the fifth round, under the Missouri system of dividing 10 points between the fighters each round. Referee Kessler had Jones ahead by two points at the end of the fourth.

All three scored the third round in favor of Johnson.

Jones, a 27-year-old Negro, regarded as a light puncher, had scored only eight previous knockouts in winning 22 of his 49 pro fights.

Lopez High On Indians

CLEVELAND, April 8 (AP)—Al Lopez described the 1955 Cleveland Indians today as "the best team I ever managed" and predicted they would repeat as pennant winners with less than the 111 victories they earned last season.

A story by Lopez was published today in the Cleveland News. In it, he credited the addition of rookie southpaw Herb Score and veteran outfielder Ralph Kiner for much of his optimism.

Lopez said frankly that he does not expect the Tribe to win 111 this season.

"The league has better balance this year, so 111 won't be necessary to win the pennant," he said.

Of Ralph Kiner, one-time National League home run leader who came to the Indians via the Chicago Cubs, Lopez said:

"I said at the start of spring training that if he played every day for us, he would hit 40 home runs. I wasn't sure at the time that he'd be good enough defensively to play regularly."

"From what I've seen of Ralph these past few days, I now am certain he'll play regularly for us—and hit those 40 home runs."

Wynn To Rest In Hospital

CLEVELAND, April 8 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians' ailing pitcher, Early Wynn, was sent to Lakeside Hospital today for rest and "to get frightened out," as Dr. Don Kelly put it.

Two weeks ago Wynn had what seemed to be influenza, after less than a week's layoff, he attempted to pitch, and had a relapse.

Tigers Purchase Another Infielder

DETROIT, April 8 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers today purchased utility infielder Ron Samford from the New York Giants for the waiver price of $10,000.

Samford hit .253 for Oakland of the Pacific Coast League last season. He appeared in 12 games for the Giants.

erage for the season was far in excess of 600 points for each player, counting Henson's fabulous total.

Henson was first team Little All State the past two seasons, Metzler was on the first team last year.

The team represents the top while Kelso and Peters were on the honorable mention list last year.

Only Berger is a newcomer to All State recognition.

With three players under six feet tall, the 1955 squad averages only slightly more than that height, thanks to towering Metzler, Donegal's 6-5 center.

Last year Metzler gained All State honors from Mt. Joy High School. However, the Mt. Joy school district has joined with two other districts to make up the Donegal district.

The scoring punch of the year's team is the best in the history of the Little All State selections. The rundown: Henson, 1,003; Berger, 597; Kelso, 594; Metzler, 600; Peters, 609.

In the voting Henson was far and away the choice in balloting with 246 points. Closest to him was Metzler with 126, while Kelso and Peters were tied for the No. 3 spot. Peters collected 55 points to make the first team.

Most of the players on the team have played against each other in playoff games. Henson and Berger were paired off in the state championship game. Metzler and Berger faced each other in the eastern regional title, while Peters and Henson faced each other for the western title.

All-State selections follow:

First team—Don Henson, Wampum, 346; Gerry Berger, Fountain Hill, 126; Paul Kelso, Darby, 58; Jay Metzler, Donegal Joint, 58, and Gary Peters, Mercer, 55.

Second team—John Melfi, Wampum, 47; Dick Geesey, Unionville, 40; Jack Wallace, Fell Twp., 37; Howard "Howie" Bortree, Moscow, 35.

Third team—Carl Belfatti, Poper Moreland, 32; Joe Sterelein, Bethlehem Catholic, 31; Scott Dimon, Tremont, 30; Terry McGovern, Lykens, 30; Stodie Watts, Jenkintown, 28.

Honorable mention—Breisch, Ringtown; Burks, Lower Moreland; Bainbridge, Tremont; Boylan, Easton Catholic; Bennett, Wampum; Benson, Huston Twp.; Bart, Dickson City; Colna, St. Clair; Carrazio, East Bethlehem; Dasher, Rolling Springs; Deliberty, Swatara Twp.; Druckenmiller, Kutztown; Erch, Marian Catholic; Jenkins, Perryopolis; Kelly, Holy Rosary; Kutchinski, Shenandoah; Kohlsas, Mechanicsburg; Kosman, Fountain Hill; Kusko, Nesquehoning; LaCoe, Newton-Ransom; Ludinsky, Mahanoy Twp.; Mathews, St. Canice; Nore, Schuylkill Haven; Noble, Fredonia; Bill Pensyl, East Stroudsburg; Richard, Nesquehoning; Rakowski, Lansdale; Rooney, Scotland; Robeson, Williamsburg; Smith, Nuremberg; Sokolski, Minersville; Simpson, Irwin; Strohecker, Tremont; Solarek, Freehold; Stover, Centre Hall; Trexler, Scotland; Wells, Greenastle; Webb, Mohancon; Warfel, Hummelstown; Wagner, Williamsburg; Ziegler, Stonycreek, Twp.

Bowling HISTORY may be made at Harmon's Recreation today when Crowe's Insurance shoots for the Delaware Valley League championship against a troublesome Central Bowling Academy of Bethlehem team. The match is slated for 8 p.m.

Crowe's contingent will enter tonight's match tied for first place with Caputo's Service. Both of the first place occupants must show plenty of power if they hope to cop the crown, as the regular season closes with tonight's match.

Caputo's squad winds up the campaign at the same time against Pat's Kiddie Shop in Easton. The match will be rolled on the Fleas Club alleys, also at 8 p.m.

A four-point win by each of the leaders, or even breaks of any sort, could bring about the first post-season playoff in the 15-year history of the league.

In case of a tie the two front runners will roll a home and home series, with total pins deciding the champion.

Close finishes have become the rule, rather than the exception, in the Delaware Valley League in recent years. But both Central Bowling Academy and Pat's Kiddie Shop are capable of registering major upset tonight.

Crowe's club, which narrowly missed snatching the title last season, will again feature Jake Nittel, Dick Andrews, John Javit, Tom Sommers and Jack Darr as its high scoring lineup.

One of the largest crowds to ever watch the local Delaware Valley League team in action is expected to be on hand for tonight's season-ending match.

Bowling HISTORY may be made at Harmon's Recreation today when Crowe's Insurance shoots for the Delaware Valley League championship against a troublesome Central Bowling Academy of Bethlehem team. The match is slated for 8 p.m.

Crowe's contingent will enter tonight's match tied for first place with Caputo's Service. Both of the first place occupants must show plenty of power if they hope to cop the crown, as the regular season closes with tonight's match.

Caputo's squad winds up the campaign at the same time against Pat's Kiddie Shop in Easton. The match will be rolled on the Fleas Club alleys, also at 8 p.m.

A four-point win by each of the leaders, or even breaks of any sort, could bring about the first post-season playoff in the 15-year history of the league.

In case of a tie the two front runners will roll a home and home series, with total pins deciding the champion.

Close finishes have become the rule, rather than the exception, in the Delaware Valley League in recent years. But both Central Bowling Academy and Pat's Kiddie Shop are capable of registering major upset tonight.

Crowe's club, which narrowly missed snatching the title last season, will again feature Jake Nittel, Dick Andrews, John Javit, Tom Sommers and Jack Darr as its high scoring lineup.

One of the largest crowds to ever watch the local Delaware Valley League team in action is expected to be on hand for tonight's season-ending match.

Ashburn, Ennis Injured As Phillies Win

WILMINGTON, Del., April 8 (AP)—Richie Ashburn and Del Ennis, first-line outfielders of the Philadelphia Phillies, were taken to Memorial Hospital today after colliding under a long drive by Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees. The blow became an inside the park homer and tied the score at 3-3 in the eighth inning. The Phillies came back to win 8-6.

Ashburn came out of the crackup in worse shape than Ennis, who appeared to be merely shaken up. The centerfielder sustained an injured left knee and it is quite possible he will not be able to play in the opener against the New York Giants Tuesday.

If he misses action, the game's longest current consecutive game playing streak will end. Ashburn has been in 730 straight games and it was expected he would challenge the National League record of 822, held by Gus Suhr of the Pittsburgh Pirates whose string ended in June of 1937.

Mantle's circuit was his second of the game, and was hit from a right stance off lefty Jack Springer. His first one came while batting left-handed. This was the first time the Yankee slugger had hit home runs from both sides of the plate in the same game.

Both Ennis and Ashburn were knocked out by the crash but were able to leave the field under their own power after being revived.

After Mantle's second out, Elston Howard hit over the leftfield fence to put the Bombers in front 6-5. But the Phils rallied in the bottom of the inning, blasting reliever John Sain for three runs.

The Yankees made five errors and four of the Philly runs were unearned.

Giants Earn Nod Over Bosox

DANVILLE, Va., April 8 (AP)—One home run by the New York Giants overcame five by the Boston Red Sox as the World Champions won, 6-7, today. The single Giant homer was made by pitcher Bill Taylor with two on and the score tied in the seventh inning to climax a six-run rally.

The Red Sox homers were

Roberts, Garver Primed To Hurl Sixth Opening Day Contest As Majors Launch Season Tuesday

Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies and Ned Garver of the Detroit Tigers, each facing his sixth opening day assignment, add the old familiar touch to the 10-game program that launches the new baseball season Monday and Tuesday.

The two pitchers will be tripping over their heads, however, before they approach Walter Johnson's record of 14 openers or even Grover Alexander's mark of 12. Bobby Feller of Cleveland tops the moderns with seven glamorous opening day jobs, including a no-hitter.

Unless the managers shift their plans over the weekend, Art

Fowler of Cincinnati, Lou Kretlow of Baltimore, Johnny Antonelli of the New York Giants and Brooks Lawrence of the St. Louis Cardinals will draw opening day honors for the first time.

A sprinkling of rookies will dot the box scores as the clubs start the 134-game chase with the 1954 pennant winners—New York Giants and Cleveland Indians—favored to repeat. The Giants are 6-5 bets with Brooklyn rated 7-3 and Milwaukee 3 1/2-1 in the National. Cleveland is even money and the New York Yankees 6-3 in the American.

With a break from the weather, erman, who promises to be nice, the two Monday games will draw 64,000 and the eight Tuesday openers an extra 263,000. This two-day total of 327,000 will be boosted close to 400,000 when the remaining teams have their home openers Thursday.

Fowler (12-10), a 31-year-old right-hander who bloomed belatedly as a rookie last season, will do the honors for Cincinnati before its customary sellout crowd of 34,000 in one of the Monday games. He will be opposed by Chicago's Bob Rush (13-15). Third baseman Ray Jablonski, the ex-Card, will be the only new

Senators Blast Redlegs, 11-5

HAGERSTOWN, Md., April 8 (AP)—Camilo Pascual and Maury McDermott threw a six-hitter at Cincinnati today to spark Washington to an 11-4 victory, the Senators' eighth against two losses in the spring exhibition series between the interleague rivals.

Roy Sievers, Eddie Yost and Steve Karchek powered home runs in a 13-hit assault off three Cincinnati pitchers.

A grand-slam homer by losing pitcher Joe Nuxhall off Pascual in the second inning and a solo homer by Bob Borkowski in the eighth accounting for all the Cincinnati runs.

Washington blasted Nuxhall for eight runs and seven hits in four innings, scoring five times in the fourth. Rookies Maurice Fisher and Rudy Martin followed Nuxhall.

Drill Date Changed

CANADENSES — A meeting of the Barretts Babe Ruth League baseball team, originally listed for today, has been postponed. It was learned last night that a new date will be set in the future. The gathering was set for Barretts High School.

Bits Of Knowledge Added Up Have Been Responsible For Widespread Damages

By J. M. Roberts
Associated Press News Analyst

Newspapers and other media of information in general have always considered that, under a democratic system, a part of the job of a free American press is to tell the public how its money is being spent and how its interests are being administered by government.

From the county courthouse, where favor-carrying officials frequently try to censor what should be public records, to the Pentagon where there are hundreds of views as to what affects national security, the subject has always produced conflict.

President Eisenhower's concern with publication of military information which could aid the nation's enemies, actual or potential, is a part of this general picture.

Here's the way it frequently works, as I can tell you from personal experience.

In one phase, some government people, both military and civilian, proud of what they are doing, want the public, their ultimate employer, to know.

Others, seeing the diplomats relying on a position of strength as a deterrent to war, think revelations of that strength, so long as technical details are not disclosed, contributes to the position.

Some are just unable to resist the impulse to make their own positions appear more important by display of inside information, or want to curry favor with reporters or publication.

It's not usually like it was in one case during the last war. Then a minor civilian employee took umbrage over some drinks at a suggestion that he was talking about things he could not, or at least should not, know about. He had some keys, and proved his point by producing one of the most important top-secret documents ever drawn up in this country in time of war. It just happened that his informant was responsible enough to keep it buttoned up.

That is, of course, typical of reporters and editors. They will not knowingly infringe security. But because they are not scientists, military experts or trained intelligence people, they sometimes slip by relying on the judgment of those who are or seem to be.

Usually it happens that people who circulate a great deal get a hint here, a word there, read a carefully edited bit that fits in with the hint and the word, and merely have to apply a little logic to come up with a fairly accurate answer. Often a summing up of bits of information which have already been published will give an entirely new picture.

I don't know how many did that in 1944-45 about the atom bomb then in the making, but I do know positively about one or two.

Not being a scientist, I wouldn't know, but I have heard people who could know say that publication, after Hiroshima, of the Smyth report was a serious mistake—not because of any special revelations in it, but because of how it could be added up by foreign scientists already versed in nuclear fission.

During the last war I knew story after story of how bits of information were added up until they constituted widespread knowledge of vital information outside of the proper circles. Most are now forgotten. But I think I know what the President is worried about.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

SATURDAY, APRIL 9, 1955

March 21 to April 20 (Aries): Quiet reflection, calm attention to duties and some time set aside for prayer, church devotions are appropriate for this day before Easter. Think of decorating the soul, honoring God.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus): Splendid Jupiter, Saturn and other planetary aspects. All good deeds and useful, pleasant activities are appreciated. Thank God for His great blessings to mankind. Active days ahead.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini): Slow down your usual high-speed tempo and seriously reflect on the significance of this holy Motherday and Easter Sunday. Think, too, how grateful we are living in free lands should be for our blessings.

June 21 to July 20 (Cancer): No unfriendly aspects for today, and much cheering, hearty cheer for all good deeds. Rejoice that renewed hope and encouragement are possible. Let us pray for those lost souls.

July 21 to August 20 (Leo): Enthusiastic, pleasant Leo's can get along happily, friendly on this great, friendly day. Did you improve your spiritual self during Lent? Even now you can make up for it.

August 21 to September 20 (Virgo): People indications, do not let hope, fine ideas and sound principles decay as they can with anxiety, a lukewarm attitude toward spiritual values. A day for action, for growth.

September 21 to October 20 (Libra): Read Taurus, your aspects similar. Prepare for a bright Easter, but be sure your soul prepares, too. Cleanse it or evil by prayer, true contrition, good works, follow His Divine teachings.

October 21 to November 20 (Scorpio):

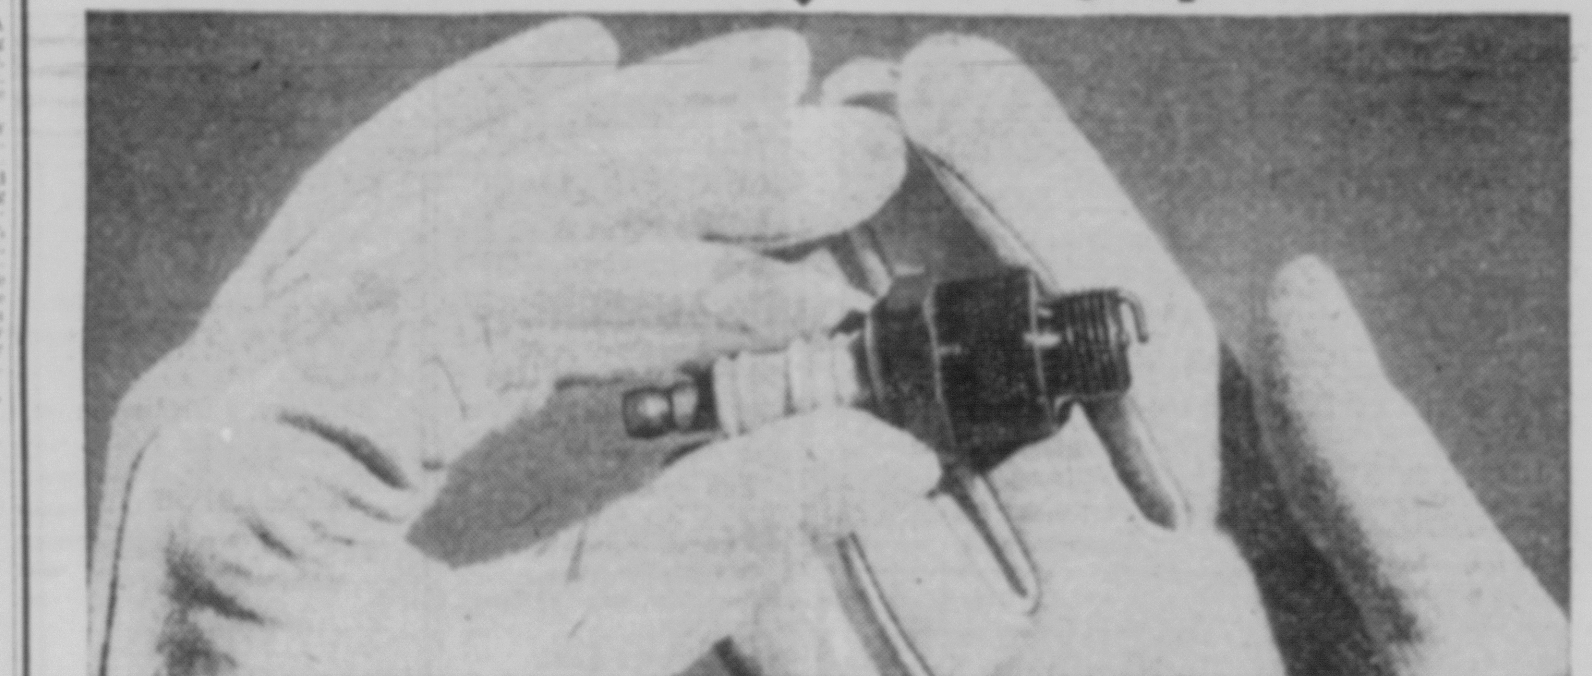

This lamp test shows what a difference Gulf super-refining makes. Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—at the refinery—to bring you new, clean-burning Gulf NO-NOX.

HERE'S HOW New 1955 No-Nox burns clean...

HERE'S WHAT

New 1955 No-Nox does for engine parts...

This spark plug is from one of the original equipment plugs used in Gulf test fleet cars. Normally, plugs need cleaning or replacement after 5,000 to 10,000 miles. This plug and its mates did not need cleaning or replacement after 15,000 miles with new NO-NOX.

what's more... No gasoline—no, not a single one—has higher octane than...

New 1955 GULF NO-NOX

This is GULF'S PLEDGE to the motoring public

- We at Gulf make this promise to America's motorists. We will not permit a single competitor—no, not a single one—to offer a gasoline superior to our own superb No-Nox.
- It is our sincere belief that No-Nox is the finest gasoline on the market today, and no matter what others do or say we will keep it the finest—in power, in performance, in engine protection.
- This is not a boast, not a claim. It is a pledge to you, the motoring public—a pledge backed by the resources—and the integrity—of the Gulf Oil Corporation.

Fill up now with new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX and feel the difference in power that really works for you mile after mile. Right from the start, you'll get these lasting benefits:

- More complete engine protection than with so-called "miracle-additive" gasolines.
- Extra gas mileage in the short-trip, stop-and-go driving you do most.
- Stall-proof smoothness... instant starts... fast, fuel-saving warm-up.
- No knock, no pre-ignition—even in today's high-compression engines.

It's super-refined... to burn clean! The '55 gasoline for all high-compression engines.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a successful puzzle designed to assist you in your business. Using the letters in your first name, if the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
